Jeeps 'Sell' $25,000 In War Bonds Here

Jeeps Roll In the Bucks

1—Two of the $1,000 bond-buyers making their purchases.

2—The sale booths had a steady rush throughout the day.

3—Empire officials welcome the Jeep Caravan's leader.

4—Children were plenty excited about riding in a Jeep.

Here are four typical scenes in yesterday's Jeep Day observance in Mansfield. No. 1—The "Minute Maids" in the Jeep which visited the Westinghouse plant received a pleasant surprise when J. H. Ashbaugh, manager, and Reese Mills, assistant manager, each bought a $1,000 bond. Left to right, standing beside the Jeep, are Mills, Miriam Jenkins, T. J. Newcomb, sales manager, who also bought a large denomination bond, Gretchen Edwards, Annabelle Hattery, Ashbaugh, Major Charles S. Robinson, and Roger H. Bolin, Jeep day chairman. No. 2—The "Minute Maids" who operated the sales booths had a busy day. That shown above was at the central sales location, at the R. E. Moorhead showrooms. No. 3—James Hill, president and manager of Empire Sheet & Tin Plate, hands a check covering a large bond purchase by employees to Major Robinson. Left to right are Oliver Henkel, Major Robinson, Hill, "Minute Maid" Ann Henkel, and Capt. A. L. Allen. No. 4—Enthusiastic about the prospect of a Jeep ride are these Mansfield boys: left to right (front seat) John and Harold Leiendecker, and Junior Pitman; (back seat) Hugh and Alan Meilinger, Charles and Jack Wise. The soldier-driver is Joseph E. Markey.

CITY PRAISED FOR GENEROUS 'SHELLING OUT'

'Splendid Accomplishment,' Says Caravan Director as Blitz Buggies Leave.

Sales Here 4 Times Greater Than Springfield; Chances For June Quota Big.

Astonishing even the most optimistic members of the Mansfield Jeep day committee, sales of war bonds and stamps in the city yesterday during the visit of the Jeep caravan here totalled nearly $25,000, a check-up revealed today.

Bond sales alone totalled $22,600, and war savings stamps produced additional sales of approximately $2,000. The combined total far exceeded the expectations of the Jeep day committee, which had hoped for a performance in the neighborhood of $10,000.

William Howlett, of New York, who arranged for the caravan to visit Mansfield as one stop in a swing through principal Ohio cities, and acted as representative of the treasury department during Mansfield Jeep day observance, paid high tribute to the city and to the committee for yesterday's performance.

"This was a splendid accomplishment," Howlett said this morning before leaving for Canton for a Jeep Day observance there. "Mansfield and the rest of Richland county should feel very proud of this one-day job, and I'm sure the result establishes that Richland county will meet its June quota of $887,600."

Roger H. Bolin, chairman of the Jeep Day and Jeep month committee, and Paul M. Eliot, Richland county war bond chairman, issued a statement thanking all the individuals, groups, and firms participating in yesterday activity.

"This shows what Richland county can do," their statement said. "All of us must now bear in mind that it will take that kind of bond-buying for the rest of the month so the county may meet or exceed its enlarged June quota. We are highly elated at the results, and we feel sure the city and county will continue buying bonds with the same spirit that was displayed yesterday."

It was understood here, although official figures were not

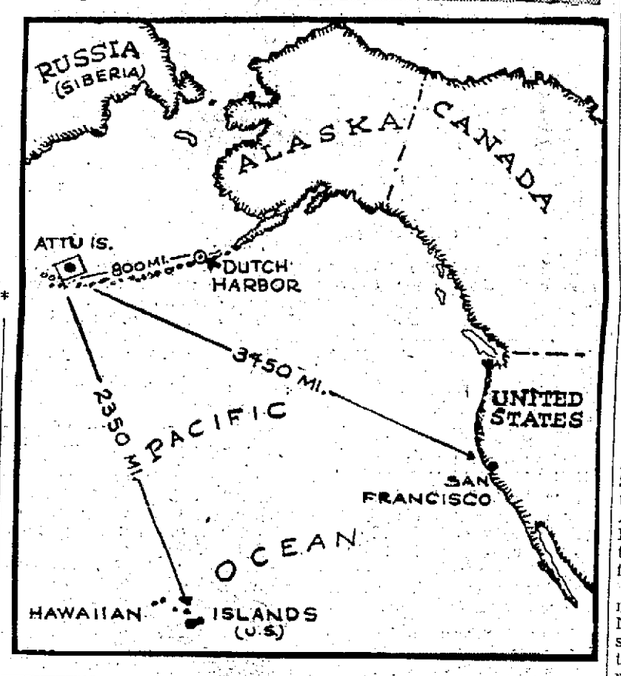
Lexington Goes Down---Japs In Aleutians

This remarkable official U. S. navy photo (top) shows members of the crew of the Lexington, veteran airplane carrier, as they slid down ropes into the sea after the "Abandon Ship" order was given. Soon after they had left the ship, it blew up with a terrific roar. However, more than 90 per cent of the crew were saved. Lower map shows where the Japs have gained a foothold in the Aleutian islands, off Alaska. They are now under attack by army and navy planes.



6 CONTESTS ON AUGUST BALLOT

20 Candidates Seek Congress, State Senate and County Office Nominations.

Twenty candidates today sought the Republican and Democratic nominations for six Richland county, 17th congressional district, and 27th-29th senatorial district offices at the August primary. Twelve Republicans and eight Democrats filed before last night's deadline.

While petitions have not been checked and approved by the election boards, five primary contests are virtually assured of a possible 12 on both tickets. The only office that failed to attract at least one candidate on each ticket was state senator in the 27th-29th district. No Democrat filed for that post.

In the state picture, five Democrats filed for governor and one Republican, M. Herbert Hoover of Akron, filed to oppose Gov. John W. Bricker. It is the first time the governor has had primary opposition in the three times he has run. Hoover, who claims relationship to the former president, has sought several state offices.

Only 29 candidates filed for eight state offices, the smallest primary field in more than 10 years. Two years ago 74 entered the primary contests.

Richland county Republicans will help decide three contests for county and district offices while

City, County Join Monday In Scrap Rubber Hunt In Homes

Answering President Roosevelt's appeal for scrap rubber "to build the planes to bomb Tokyo and Berlin," Mansfield and Richland county residents will join Monday in the nation-wide campaign for old tires, overshoes, and the dozens of other pieces of rubber that clutter up basements and backyards.

Gasoline filling stations throughout the city and county will participate in the program, paying one cent a pound for old rubber turned in to them. The campaign will continue through June 30.

Filling stations will be reimbursed by petroleum firms for the scrap rubber they buy, E. V. Weber, president of the Ohio Petroleum Marketers' association, announced today.

The amount of old rubber turned in by the public during the collection drive will help determine whether nationwide gasoline rationing will be needed to conserve the rubber supply, salvage officials said in Washington.

The government will buy the used rubber from oil companies as they collect it from filling stations

BILL SPEEDED

Measure Would Defer Nearly All Married Men.

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Congressional leaders in military affairs said today that the soldiers' allotment bill, which carries a major amendment to the draft act—providing for virtual deferment of all married men, may become law next week.

The draft act amendment provides that deferment may be ordered because of family relationship, regardless of financial status of the registrant.

The effect of this, leaders said, is that married men can be deferred even though they have working wives, and even though their wives or they have independent incomes.

'Flag Day' Edition Carries More Pix Of Men In Service

On the appropriate occasion of Flag day, The News-Journal tomorrow will publish photographs and sketches of several hundred of the Richland county young men now serving in the nation's armed services.

This "Flag Day edition" contains no pictures or stories about Mansfield servicemen, but is confined to men from the county outside of Mansfield.

There will be a large group of photographs and sketches of Shelby men. Separate sketches will appear on groups from Bellville, Butler, Lucas, Lexington, Ontario, and other communities in the county. And there will be many others, too, from homes on rural routes in the county.

As in the case of the "Thumbs Up" edition of The News-Journal a month ago, when the photographs and stories were confined to Mansfield youths, many scores of families have ordered copies of the paper sent to their sons in Army camps and service training centers in scattered parts of the country.

Fly Flag Tomorrow

Mansfield joins the rest of the nation this week-end in observance of Flag day—an occasion more deep in meaning because of the war, than the day has been for many years. Actually Flag day is tomorrow, but flags are already waving from hundreds of homes and from public and business buildings.

Charge of City 'Buck Passing' Enlivens Session of Council

A charge of "buck-passing" highlighted a council conference held last night prior to a special session, that was also marked by sharp disagreement among several councilmen—all Republicans.

The buck-passing charge was hurled by Councilman Roy W. Vaughn when a resolution authorizing the oiling of 159 streets and 94 alleys was suggested for consideration.

"The money has all been appropriated for the work," said Vaughn. "Council shouldn't be bothered with all these administrative duties."

Vaughn's remarks were made at the height of an argument in which the councilmen were trying to decide what legislation would be considered at the special session.

A meeting had been planned for Thursday night but Councilman George C. Kyle had blocked it after learning that only one piece of legislation would be considered.

Last night when Kyle attempted to introduce several new pieces of legislation, the other councilmen, obviously rankled by Kyle's blocking of the Thursday meeting, refused to go along with him.

"We aren't going to have these matters shoved down our throat," Councilmen Vaughn and C. N. Shultz told Kyle when he offered a surprise plan to resurface Glessner avenue.

Vaughn said that although Kyle may have known of the planned project for two weeks, he himself had only learned of it five minutes before the meeting.

Shortage of Water at Lucas Hits Saturday Night Bath

LUCAS—On top of sugar rationing, rubber shortage, threatened gasoline restrictions and numerous other war-time curtailments, Lucas residents have an additional shortage all their own which now threatens to "freeze" even the old-fashioned Saturday night bath.

During the past week the village has been without water except for a few hours during two nights. While workmen are engaged in replacing water mains in the village it has been necessary to cut off the water supply to the entire community.

While small boys of the village are reported to be delighted with the lack of washing fluid, family washings, sprinkling, shaving and even dish washing have been thrown for a loss.

During the two nights of the past week when the supply was turned on many households resorted to bath tubs, wash tubs, pots, kettles, cans and jars of all kinds in storing up a reserve.

Contractor O. J. Sheets hoped to have the main water line from the village to the reservoir completed today so villagers would have water over the week-end.

Army and Navy Planes Seek to Oust Invaders

Fliers Force Foe From All Populated Areas; Enemy Keeps Foothold on Island of Attu, Has Ships In Kiska Harbor, Navy Reports.

BULLETIN

German broadcasts heard in this country quoted the imperial Japanese headquarters as announcing that Japanese operations in the Aleutians were continuing. The Japanese said they intended to occupy the islands as a base of future operations against continental United States.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Army and navy airmen are trying today to blast the Japanese out of the Aleutian islands where they have established their first footholds in the western hemisphere.

So far, the enemy is known to have landed on only one island—Attu, westernmost of the Aleutian chain which stretches 1,500 miles from the Alaska mainland toward Japan. But enemy vessels—their type not designated—have been observed in Kiska harbor, about 100 miles east of Attu.

"Japanese operations in the Aleutian area are still in progress," the navy announced last night in a communique—the first on the North Pacific and Alaskan area since the Japanese dropped bombs and conducted a reconnaissance flight over Dutch Harbor, important naval base in the Aleutians, last week.

American airmen already have succeeded in driving the enemy from the populated regions of the islands and the navy indicated that with good weather, air attacks on the invader would continue in greater force.

The navy's announcement last night came only a few hours after it made public a final tally of the Coral sea engagement showing that American naval and air forces sank or damaged 37 Japanese warships and auxiliaries to thwart two South Pacific invasion thrusts of the enemy. That battle, it is now revealed, was a prelude to the great naval-air battle of Midway which raged for several days late last week.

It still is not clear whether, and if so how, the thrusts at the Aleutian islands were related to Japan's disastrous attempt to take Midway.

The first hint of the central and North Pacific engagements came a week ago Wednesday when the navy announced that Japanese bombers had attacked Dutch Harbor. On Thursday it reported the situation at Dutch Harbor quiet and revealed that a second raid reported on Wednesday turned out to be only a reconnaissance flight.

Late Thursday afternoon of last week the navy issued the first of several communiques on the battle of Midway.

Since then there have been no official reports on the situation in the North Pacific area around Alaska and the Aleutians until the following communique was issued last night:

"Information just received by the navy department is to the Convoy of Men, Tanks, Guns Makes Atlantic Crossing Without Incident.

(By United Press)

A NORTHERN IRISH PORT—A large contingent of United States troops arrived at this port today to reinforce the growing American army which, with its British Allies, is to take the fight to Germany on a second European front.

Included among the reinforcements were a small detachment of Negro soldiers, detailed for the services of supply, and more up-to-the-minute mechanized equipment, including tanks.

The crossing of this new American force was without incident and probably was one of the swiftest.

Tired and restive after their voyage across the submarine infested Atlantic, the troops, including the Negroes, disembarked quickly, and climbing into trucks, were hustled to prepared camps without fanfare.

Living symbols of the pledge that the United States, like Britain, had agreed with Russia as to the urgent need for a second front,

Mayor Refuses to Sign Gas Station Operations Bill

Stretching his 10-day allowance to its limit, Mayor W. J. Locke late yesterday returned to city council unsigned an ordinance establishing a limit of 72 hours on the operation of gasoline service stations in Mansfield.

In returning the ordinance without his signature, the mayor indicated that he would allow it to become a law but that he was not giving it his approval. The mayor signed a previous ordinance which set a 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. workday for the stations but it was repealed by council when the new ordinance was passed June 2.

The Standard Oil company prevented enforcement of the curfew ordinance by getting an injunction against it.

The new ordinance will go into effect on July 2 and will permit station-owners to operate only 72 hours a week. A schedule must be posted by the operators of the hours in which the station will remain open.

Boy, 14, Convicted of Shooting Sister For 'Nagging.'

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — A 14-year-old boy accused of fatally shooting his sister, 9, because she "nagged" him awaited sentence today on a charge of voluntary manslaughter.

Vincent James Rocco, described by his counsel as "outstanding in school, church and boy scouting," sobbed as a jury brought in its verdict last night with a recommendation of "extreme leniency."

The prosecution charged the boy shot Marie Rocco as she slept in their home last March 15 while their parents attended a wake. Defense attorney Louis Little sought acquittal on the assertion that Vincent suffered a nervous disease which rendered him "entirely irresponsible."

THE WAR TODAY

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
(Wide World War Analyst)

The fierce Hitlerian offensives being waged in the Kharkov sector of the Ukraine and against the great Red naval base of Sevastopol in the Crimea are logical forerunners of another all-out Nazi drive to force the stubborn gateway to the Caucasus, with its wealth of oil and other resources.

These two operations, while widely separated, are natural companion pieces in the German strategy of crashing into this land of plenty and are likely to develop into one of the decisive battles of the war if they go well for the invaders in this initial stage. Awaiting the outcome of these drives are great armies of fresh Nazi troops, backed by a formidable array of new equipment and a huge air-fleet.

Herr Hitler's boasted intuition must be making him uneasy, what with the official talk of a new Allied front against him in Western Europe and the unprecedented bombing raids being staged by the British. Old man time has the fuehrer by the neck.

The renewed onslaught against Kharkov by Nazi Marshal Fedor Von Bock probably is calculated to eliminate two great salients which Red Marshal Timoshenko drove into the German line south of that city. Should it succeed, the Hitlerites would be in position to resume their push for Rostov-on-Don—the pivot on which the gateway to the Caucasus turns.

But if the crafty Timoshenko can hold his lines, he may stymie Hitler's grand offensive as the marshal did once before this spring.

Down on the Crimea the situation before long-besieged Sevastopol is reported from Moscow as "extremely tense." The Germans are attacking with some 150,000 troops and heavy air forces. This naval base is the last Red bastion in the Crimea, and Hitler needs it to enable him to pass troops through the Crimea and across the narrow Kerch strait to the Caucasus mainland. A wholly unconfirmed report from Vichy, France, yesterday said Nazi soldiers already had landed on the mainland, thereby getting a toehold in this back door to the Caucasus.

A look at the map will show how Hitler is trynig to co-ordinate the Kharkov and Caucasus operations. Should he be successful in both places he might be able to develop a pincers movement on Rostov. With this pivot city in his hands he would try to drive straight eastward to Astrakhan and thence down the Caspian sea coast to the oil city of Baku. At the same time he would send another column down the western Caucasus to the other oil port of Batum.

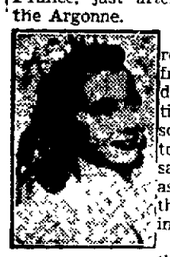
And if Hitler ever should get an army down through the Caucasus to the Persian border, he presumably would find himself facing Anglo-American forces which have been anxiously waiting for a chance to get at him.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

Boys Far From Broadway.

GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING, so a popular military legend goes, once stopped to talk with a group of soldiers resting alongside a troop-backed road in France, just after the battle of the Argonne.



Kilgallen

The soldiers, relaxing for the first time in six days, were so tired they could scarcely struggle to their feet to salute. Pershing asked them how things were going.

"Lousy," said the first. "Is there any place in this country where a guy can get away from the mud?"

The second cracked, "When the heck are those rotten cooks going to get us some food?"

The third was squawking because he couldn't get a pass to Paris. The fourth was griping because no mail had been delivered in ten days. Several were mad at the world in general because their non-coms hadn't been killed in the battle.

Pershing listened to them all, smiled, turned to an aide and said:

"Now I know that our army is in fine shape. As long as a soldier gripes about everything, he's a good soldier. As soon as he stops complaining and starts taking things as they come, look out—he's no good any more."

If what General Pershing said then still holds true, our army at the moment is in fine fettle. If you don't think so, ask any soldier you see along Broadway what he thinks of his mess sergeant; his first sergeant: the new second lieutenant attached to his company; his sleeping quarters, or the city nearest his camp. Then duck, brother. You'll be facing the heaviest barrage of beefing since the last time Leo Durocher didn't like the way Umpire Bill Klem called a crucial three-and-two pitch.

Our army can beef with the best of them, just as we like to think it can fight a little better than the best of them.

But all squawks notwithstanding, many of the boys in service have found that the army has given them a wonderful new slant on life—and more than that, it has given them time or opportunity to do things they never could get around to in civilian life.

Take Corp. Earl Oxford, for instance. He was a radio actor when the army tapped him—before that, he'd tried awfully hard to hit the jackpot on the legitimate stage. He'd played juveniles in a few Shubert shows and won parts in a flock of other undistinguished musicals, but luck never elbowed him into a big hit.

Then he joined the army, and though it's hard to believe, that's how he's getting his biggest break on Broadway. Because he's coming to town on July 4 in what any wise Broadwayite will tell you is sure to be a smash success: Irving Berlin's musical, 'This Is The Army."

There's a soldier in our army named Art Hill, who comes from a tank town in Iowa. In civilian life, Art was a grocery clerk with a yen to be a mathematician. But he couldn't spare the time or the money to go to college and learn the intricacies of calculus.

He was drafted, and wound up in a field artillery outfit, where his affection for figures got him a job as a range calculator—and army experts taught him all he wanted to know in the way of rapid mathematical calculations.

So when Art comes back from Ireland—where he's now stationed—he'll forsake the grocery business for the more comfortable life of an accountant.

Eddie Fitzgerald was a shoeshine boy on the Staten Island ferry when his number came up in the fishbowl and Uncle Sam bought him a couple of khaki suits. Eddie hated the ferry. His ambition was to work on an ocean liner—a boat that was really going places.

And the army made Eddie's dream come true. He is now a Military Policeman working at a port of embarkation on the West Coast, riding the transport boats back and forth to keep an eye on the traveling troops.

Burgess Meredith used to threaten regularly that he was going to give up night clubs, start getting up early in the morning, drink plenty of milk, take a lot of exercise, and really get in trim. But the lure of the Stork and El Morocco, to say nothing of Chasen's and the other Hollywood night spots, frequently kept him up until dawn, and he never got around to the clean, healthful, outdoor life.

That is, he didn't until Uncle Sam said, "Buzz, you're in the army."

COUNCIL CLEARS WAY FOR PAVING R-42 IN CITY

Passes Legislation Which Guarantees Participation; Protests Heard.

Meeting in special session last night, Mansfield city council passed three resolutions and one ordinance putting into motion the machinery necessary to allow the state highway department to proceed with the improvement of portions of state routes in the city.

Councilman George C. Kyle, chairman of the streets committee, presented all four pieces of legislation and they were given unanimous approval by seven Republican members attending the meeting. Councilman Fred Miller and Michael Mihalich, Democrats, were unable to attend.

Council approved a resolution guaranteeing co-operation with the state in resurfacing U. S. Route 42 from Central park east to the city limits and U. S. Route 42-A which is made up by Hedges and East First streets.

Under the latest proposition, the city will pay $24,500 and provide $500 worth of catch-basins as its part of the $72,000 project. Property-owners along Park avenue east and around the square will be assessed for the improvement under the benefit plan.

Previously, the city was to pay $28,000 or approximately half the cost of the work to be done within the city limits. The state will extend the improvement to the top of Ashland hill.

Protests were filed by property-owners on East First street who stated they "would rather have an unimproved street so long as they could sleep." The property-owners, led by Rolla A. Huffman, 136 East First street, asked council to eliminate the East First and Hedges street portion of the project but council went ahead with the legislation. The East First and Hedges street property-owners claim to have 80 per cent of the owners against the improvement.

The only other piece of legislation considered by council was the transfer of $4,000 and subsequent funds to be forwarded by the Richland county budget commission from the state for civilian defense to a special civilian defense fund where it may be used by Mansfield civilian defense council.

Council approved the transfer and ordered the money to be handled through Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff's office.

LEAVES SUNDAY

Hardy to Take Over Duties With Cleveland Red Cross.

Bernard C. Hardy, first aid, water safety and accident prevention director of Richland county chapter of the Red Cross, leaves Mansfield Sunday to assume his new post with the Cleveland chapter of Red Cross.

Hardy recently signed a contract with the Cleveland chapter as first aid, water safety and accident prevention director, and as such automotically becomes director of the medical division, first aid and rescue squads for the Cleveland Civilian Defense organization.

No successor has been named as yet for the post here.

TAKE OATH AT MOVIE TONIGHT

Marines To Be Sworn In on Theater Stage.

Nine young men from Richland county and vicinity will officially become members of the United States marine corps tonight at the first marine swearing-in ceremony to be staged in the city in years.

The ceremony will be presented on the stage of the Ohio theater at 9 p. m. Capt. T. A. Tighe, in charge of the marine recruiting stations in the Cleveland area, will administer the oath.

The ceremony at the theater is in conjunction with the showing of "To the Shores of Tripoli," a picture honoring the marine corps. A marine color guard will participate, and former marines of the city are invited to attend.

As another feature of the program at the theater, Paul M. Eliot, Richland county war bond chairman, will present medals to 125 News-Journal carriers for their service in selling war stamps. Total sales by the carriers as of today total $53,000. The boys will assemble at the Legion home at 8:30 and will remain at the theater as guests of the management after the ceremony.

EXTENDS U. S. O. DRIVE TO JULY 1

Campaign Organizations, With $6,534 Reported, to Have More Time For Canvass.

Richland county's United Service Organization today extended its war fund campaign for $22,000 until July 1 unless the goal is reached before that time.

Originally scheduled to end Monday, the campaign which has raised $6,534.91 since it opened two weeks ago, will be continued to give workers time to complete their canvass, George H. Smith, U. S. O. president, said.

The amount raised so far represents only a partial report, according to Mrs. John H. Pierce, solicitation chairman, as at least one-third of the 600 workers scattered throughout the county have still to report.

Several local industries were delayed in making contributions this week, Mrs. Pierce said, by the fact U. S. O. headquarters had to await supplies.

The total to date includes a $300 contribution from Art Rattan company employes who averaged $2.45 a person in their gift to the U. S. O.

Waged as part of a national campaign to raise funds to maintain recreation centers for the men in service, the county campaign is expected to furnish $2,000 towards establishing a service club in Mansfield.

WIDOW, 86, DIES AT PLYMOUTH

Mrs. Isabella Cole Succumbs; Funeral Monday.

PLYMOUTH — Mrs. Isabella Cole, 86, widow of Henry Cole, died yesterday at her home. She had been in failing health for some time.

She was born in Scotland, Nov. 4, 1855 and came to Plymouth 42 years ago. She was a member of the Plymouth Methodist church.

Surviving are two daughters, Jessie at home and Margaret of Pittsburgh, Pa.; two sons, Arch E. of Louisville, Ky., and Clarence of Akron; nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Monday, at the Methodist church. Rev. T. M. Wintermute will officiate. Burial will be in Greenlawn cemetery.

COUNCIL WAITS FUND PROPOSALS

Columbus Officials Expect Deluge Of Plans To Avoid Lay-Offs.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—City council prepared today to receive a deluge of proposals for solving the municipal financial crisis which Mayor Floyd F. Green said would force the layoff of 500 city workers Monday.

Defeat of a 2.5 mill levy designed to raise $900,000 precipitated the crisis and the group which opposed the levy announced it would ask council to appoint a committee to "eliminate excessive expenditures."

Representatives of policemen, more than half of whom may be furloughed, scheduled a meeting with merchants to work out a money raising plan.

MIDWAY VICTIM'S SISTER FIRST TO VOLUNTEER IN WOMEN'S ARMY

COLUMBUS — America's first WAAC volunteer wants to wear khaki to mourn the death of her brother, America's first air general to die in action.

Mrs. Villa Tinker Rippel, whose brother, Major Gen. C. L. Tinker, was commander of the U. S. air force in Hawaii, is ready to fight or wash dishes for the army.

General Tinker was reported lost in the battle of Midway island yesterday.

The first woman in the United States to take the preliminary tests for the Woman's Auxiliary Army Corps, Mrs. Rippel passed with flying colors.

"My brother was a first-rate soldier, and I'm sure America realizes her loss," Mrs. Rippel said. She lived with her brother when he was stationed at San Antonio, Texas, and when he was a military instructor at a Riverside, California, military school.

Mrs. Rippel comes from a military family. She has another brother who expects to enter the army soon, and her husband, who has applied for a commission, is awaiting for orders. Three of her nephews are in the army. She has no children.

She is not joining the woman's army for the svelte uniforms or for the romantic idea of being a member of the first woman's army. A soldier's life is drudgery and hardship—and she knows it.

"I volunteered for the WAAC, because I thought that my background might make me useful to my country," she said. "And if they decide they don't need me, I'll find something else to do."

When Mrs. Rippel gets her marching orders, her home in Columbus will be closed for the duration.

Mrs. Rippel, who spent several years studying in the Orient, returned from her last trip only two years ago. She has studied Oriental philosophy, Hinduism and Buddhaism.

NEW ON BOARD

C. C. Hartzell, Shelby, on Draft Board 3; Lutz Resigns.

C. C. Hartzell of Shelby today was appointed a member of selective service Board 3 in Richland county to succeed J. M. Crawford of Shelby, who resigned recently. The appointment was made by President Roosevelt.

Ralph Lutz of Lexington, another member of Board 3, had resigned today to conduct his campaign for state representative on the Democratic ticket. His successor will also be named by the president.

Hartzell, vice president of the Shelby Gum company, was recommended for the post by Crawford. Since Crawford was chairman of the board, members of the board will meet within a few days to elect a new chairman.

Crawford had served on the board since it was organized in 1940. Lutz was appointed about a year ago to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Vance Clever.

BUTLER YOUTH TO HEAD BOARD

Clark Stahl Named President of Junior Organization.

Clark Stahl of Butler, was elected president of the Richland county junior fair board at the board's annual meeting last night at the county agent's office in the courthouse. He succeeds Richard Gramly of Weller township.

Percy Crunkilton, jr., of Butler was elected vice president and Jay Rinehart of Ontario was chosen secretary.

The board discussed preliminary plans for the junior fair program which will feature the opening day of the Richland county fair late in August.

Servicemen from the Mansfield area who are stationed near the national capital or visit there will find The News-Journal in the newspaper rack in the president's lounge for servicemen at the Washington Union station. Congressman J. Harry McGregor of the 17th district receives the paper in Washington and forwards it to the lounge in the station. The lounge formerly was used as a reception room for the president. It has been refurnished by the USO for servicemen in the capital area.

So the mouse said to the elephant, "squeek, squeek." And two army jeeps, helping in yesterday's war bond drive in Mansfield, were no less daunted when they met eight big, ponderous army armored trucks at the Bowman, Marion, Park avenue intersection yesterday afternoon. The jeeps, loaded with pretty Mansfield Minute Maids, went "Bleep, bleep." And the ponderous army trucks went—on. They weren't scared either.

The moral of this story is mind your own business. Last night an ex-wife and husband had an argument and fight at a downtown cafe. Police were called but while they were trying to settle the matter another man interfered. Police told him to keep out of the family argument but he persisted and ignored police warnings. He was finally taken away to the city jail and was to be charged with intoxication or disorderly conduct.

Y. W. C. A. daytime campers took a tip from the circus this week and climaxed their first week of camp with a circus party at their Friday night frolic. The various camp groups each improvised a side show for the pleasure of the remaining campers and the entire enrollment of 70 girls participated in such events as an elephant walk relay, peanut scramble, and tight rope walkers' relay. There were also concessions for darts and bowling.

28 BODIES TAKEN FROM PILED DEBRIS

Dozen Children Among Dead As Storms Sweep 16-Block Area.

(By International News Service)

OKLAHOMA CITY — Twenty-eight bodies were removed early today from a mass of tangled wreckage left by two tornadoes which, by coincidence, struck the same section of Oklahoma City in rapid succession last night.

A sixteen square block area was splintered by the two twisters, one of which appeared to form over Oklahoma City and streak west, while the other, ten minutes later, dipped into the same section and then moved northward.

A dozen children were counted among the dead, only four of whom had been definitely identified. The youngest of the child dead appeared to be about four years old. There were several from 10 to 12, one girl about 15, and another 18.

One of the unidentified dead was listed as a soldier, and it was thought he may have been from nearby Will Rogers air base. The identified dead were John L. Cox, Ezra Ashley, Thomas A. Clark, and Mrs. Ina Trout.

Several soldiers from the Will Rogers base were in the vicinity when the tornadoes struck, and they were first to join in giving aid to the injured, estimated at more than 100 persons, and in recovering the bodies of dead.

"I saw the first twister hit, and I could hardly believe my eyes," one of the soldiers said. "There was a bridge in its path that I never thought would move, but it just picked that bridge up gently and laid it on its side.

"The houses that were hit directly were lifted high in the air, and others just crumpled up before our eyes. Then the second twister came along and, darned if it didn't hit the same places. The streets were littered and piled high with wreckage."

A day of oppressive heat and humidity preceded the tornadoes, and they were accompanied by both hail and tremendous rains. A gas main blew out with a terrific explosion during the confusion, and sewage mains, electric and telephone lines were destroyed.

The tornadoes struck at 9:30 and 9:40 p. m., destroying at least seventy-five residences.

It was the third tornado disaster this year for Oklahoma—the worst tornado series in the state's history. Sixty-nine were killed when a tornado struck Pryor, Okla., April 27, and 19 died in a tornado which hit six communities the following Saturday.

Army Will Open Glider Training School In Ohio

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (AP) — An advanced glider school has been established at the Lockbourne, Franklin county, O., air base and will begin training pilots about July 1, Maj. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, commanding officer of the southeast army air forces training center, announced.

Lt. Col. O. M. Baldinger, now liaison officer at Maxwell Field here, has been named commander of the school, and Capt. R. F. Burnham, now commanding officer of the Decatur, Ala., primary school, was named director of training.

Commissioned and enlisted operating personnel will start moving into the base Monday.

The school will train volunteers between the ages of 18 and 36 and will offer commissions as second lieutenants to outstanding graduates and give others ratings as staff sergeants.

Stratemeyer announced that also eligible for training were former aviation cadets with 50 hours in army or navy planes, veterans of at least 200 glider flights, graduates of CAA training schools and holders of private airman certificates which had not lapsed Jan. 1, 1941.

500 EXPECTED FOR VACATION CHURCH SCHOOL

Staff of More Than 50 to Offer Instruction; Classes Will Open Monday.

More than 500 Mansfield children are expected to be on hand Monday at 9 a. m. for opening session of the five Community Vacation Church schools sponsored by the Sunday School Superintendents association.

A staff of more than 50 superintendents, teachers and helpers will offer instruction at the following churches: Park Avenue Baptist, St. John's Evangelical and Reformed, Salvation Army, First United Brethren and the Union Gospel chapel.

Other churches co-operating in the vacation school program are the First English Lutheran, First Congregational, First Christian, Grace Episcopal, First and Central Methodist, First Presbyterian, United Presbyterian, St. Mark's Lutheran, St. Luke's Lutheran and the Free Methodist church.

There is no enrollment fee for the schools it was emphasized by Conrad Diehm, chairman of the vacation school project. "The entire expense has been underwritten by the co-operating churches."

"All children are invited," he said, "whether they are members of Sunday schools and churches or not."

Diehm said that the goal of the Sunday School Superintendents association was a vacation church school within walking distance of every Mansfield child's home and urges children to attend the school nearest their homes.

Eight other Mansfield churches are planning their own vacation schools. The churches and dates of the schools are as follows: South Main Evangelical, June 8-19; Grace Gospel, June 8-19; St. Paul's Lutheran, First Brethren and East Mansfield Presbyterian, all June 15-26; Evangelical Congregational, June 22-July 3;; Mayflower Congregational, June 29-July 10; and Grace Episcopal, August 10-21.

Service Divided Into Three Parts

Church and Sunday school services at the First Lutheran church will be divided into three parts tomorrow when annual Children's Day services are held.

The service opens at 9:45 a. m. when Rev. Grover E. Swoyer will preach on "The Horribleness of Hate." Sunday school will begin at 10:45 followed by the Children's day program at 11:05 a. m.

Children of the nursery, primary and junior departments will present the program under the direction of Mrs. Hobart Cashell, Mrs. Eugene Boling and Mrs. Charles Theaker. Decorations are in charge of Mrs. Harold Copeland, Mrs. Dwight Stewart and Mrs. Don Bowden.

The Mansfield All-Girl orchestra, under the direction of Will Kurtz, will present a cancert of sacred and classical music at the evening vesper service at 8 p. m. Among their numbers will be "Abide with Me" and L'Amour Moderne" both arranged by Kurtz. Mary Jane Bellore will sing several vocal selections.

Presenting the second in a series of sermons on "The Worst Characters in the Bible," Rev. Swoyer will deliver a sermon entitled "The Lowest Man in the Bible," at this service.

Highlighting activities during the week the annual Sunday school picnic will be held at 5 p. m., Wednesday, at South park. The recreation committee, headed by Mrs. John K. Linsenmayer, is making arrangements for children's games, a men's baseball game, and other activities. A program of motion pictures is being arranged by Miss Pearl Danback and Jon Linsenmayer.

General arrangements and special refreshments are in charge of T. D. Brown, Earl Dye, Joe Parrott, Charles Cromer, C. K. Dye, Paul Selby and Howard Miller. Sunday School Superintendent Lewis Cashell heads this committee.

Also schoduled next week are Luther league, 7 p. m., Sunday; Third district, 2 p. m., Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. C. A. Boughton, 125 West Fifth street; Eighth district, 2 p. m., Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. Charles Calver, 246 Davis road.

Special Children's Day Exercises

Annual Children's day exercises, presented by children from the cradle roll, beginners and primary departments, will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m., at the First Presbyterian church.

In addition to the songs and recitations given by the children Miss Mabel Zehner, church organist, will play Faulkes "Barcarolle" as the offertory and the choir will sing the anthem "The Earth Is the Lord's" by Mueller.

Meetings scheduled during the week include Mrs. Chase's Bible class picnic, Middle park, 6:30 p. m., Monday; United Presbyterian guild meeting at 2 p. m., Wednesday, with First Presbyterian women as guests; family picnic of Captain Stephenson's class, at South park, 6:15 p. m., Friday; and Women's guild Mother and daughter reception, 7:45 p. m., Thursday.

'And the Winds Blow,' To Be Pastor's Topic

Rev. Paul H. Saleste, pastor of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, will use "And the Winds Blew" as his sermon topic for the regular 10:30 worship service tomorrow morning. Music for the service will be provided by the senior choir, under the direction of John C. Klinger.

Highlighting activities during the week the annual congregational picnic will be held at South Park Thursday afternoon and evening. Conrad O. Diehm is in charge of general arrangements.

Beginning at 2 p. m. there will be games for the children and competitive sports for the adult Sunday school classes. The picnic supper is scheduled for 6:30 p. m., in charge of Clara Yeager, Harry Frietchen heads the refreshment committee.

Community Vacation Church School classes open at 9 a. m., Monday, in charge of Mrs. Mary Morris. All children from 4 to 12 years of age are eligible to attend.

Other meetings scheduled during the week are St. John's guild, 2 p. m., Wednesday; and the Junior and Senior choir rehearsals, Friday at 6:30 and 7:30 p. m., respectively.

SUNDAY CHURCH SERVICES WILL HONOR CHILDREN

Majority of Congregations Hold Special Exercises Tomorrow.

Children's Day will be observed with special services tomorow as hundreds of children participate in Children's Day programs at 11 of Mansfield's churches.

A number of churches are combining Sunday school and worship periods devoting the entire morning to Children's Day activities. Pastors of most of the churches will preach only short sermonettes rather than full-length sermons.

Choir and instrumental music presented tomorrow will also be in keeping with the Children's Day theme.

At some of the churches children will take complete charge of their programs of recitations, songs, plays and pageants. At others programs will be under the supervision of Sunday school superintendents and teachers.

Although Children's Day services are being held tomorrow in most Mansfield churches, several churches honored their boys and girls at special services last Sunday and earlier in the spring.

Baptismal Service To Be Held Sunday

A play will feature the Children's day program at the St. Paul Lutheran church Sunday at 9:30 a. m. The worship period will be included in the unified program.

Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, pastor, will baptize children during the service, and members of the junior department will be promoted to the intermediate division of the Sunday school, Mrs. W. B. Linn giving the certificates. The committee in charge of the program is Mrs. Paul R. Lee, chairman, Miss Dorothy Blackstone, Mrs. Russell Hawk, Mrs. Henry Howard, Mrs. E. G. Pankow, and Mrs. P. M. Pasheilich.

Following the service at the church the congregation will go to the Mansfield cemetery to the church lot where a memorial service will be conducted and the graves of a former pastor and graves will be decorated. Anna Marie Fischer will lead the Luther league topic on "Flowers" at 6:30 p. m.

The second annual Vacation Bible school will open Monday at 9 a. m., for children of school age through thirteen. Assisting the minister will be Mrs. Glenn Miller, Mrs. Howard Hayward, Mrs. Woodrow Seitz, Harold Loesch, Mary Ann Linn, Anna Marie Fischer, and Charles Perkeybile.

Thursday Nighters, senior young people, will hold a supper and outing Thursday at 6:30 p. m., with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rebel and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Seybold in charge.

The choir will rehearse Friday at 7 p. m., in preparation for the 90th anniversary celebration June 21.

Flag Ceremony Planned at Church

Flag presentation and dedication ceremonies will feature the morning service of the First United Brethren church tomorrow at 9:30 a. m.

An American flag will be given to the church by McVey Post, American Legion and three church members who are veterans of the first World war. They are Walter Hill, M. Ralph Hopper and Charles Shupple.

Matching the American flag, a Christian flag, provided by the church, will be dedicated at the same time. Presentation of the Christian flag will be made by William T. Hursh and a delegation of Legionnaires will present the American flag. The flags will be accepted by Charles W. McBride, president of the board of trustees.

Rev. James L. Boyer will preach on "Banners for Display" during the dedication service. A special duet entitled "Precious Hiding Place" by Loveless will be sung by Miss Carrie Lucas and Robert Hoover.

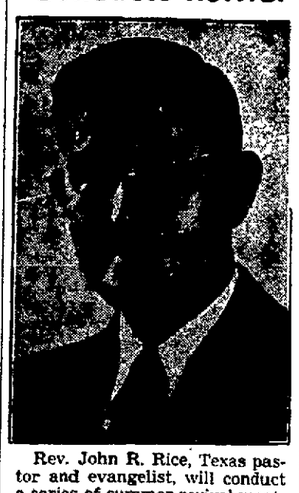
Continuing the summer series of sermons on "Great Prophetic Themes of the Bible" Ruskin Garber of Ashland will speak on "The Future's Most Certain Event, More Certain than Death or Taxes" at the 8 p. m. vesper service.

Music for this service will be presented by the Misses Irene Leedy and Amy Schad of Ashland.

Speaks Nightly

Rev. Edmont P. Hains, founder of the Newark, N. J., Gospel Tabernacle, will preach a series of sermons nightly at 8 p. m., June 21-28, at the First United Brethren church. One evening will be devoted to the presentation of a pageant entitled "The Wilderness Tabernacle," when Rev. Hains with appropriate costumes and music will enact the Old Testament Hebrew ritual. During the week he will discuss several topics dealing with the present world conflict and its relation to Bible prophecy. He will also include a lecture on the imminent return of Jesus Christ.

Conducts Revival



Rev. John R. Rice, Texas pastor and evangelist, will conduct a series of summer revival meetings near Shelby on State Route 61 starting tomorrow at 7:45 p. m. The services will be held nightly for three weeks from June 14 to July 5 in a large tent seating approximately 1,000 people. Rev. Rice will be assisted with the services by Rev. John C. Searle, pastor of the United Brethren church, who will lead the singing. Children's meetings are also scheduled Monday through Thursday at the First Baptist church.

Scientist Church Lesson-Sermon

"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in the Church of Christ, Scientist Sunday. It will have for the Golden text: "The Lord is our defence; and the Holy One of Israel is our king" (Psalms 89:18).

Included in the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon are the following correlative passages from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord Thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might" (Deuteronomy 6:4,5).

Dramatic Numbers To Be Given

Boys and girls of the First Methodist church will present their annual Children's day program tomorrow at 10 a. m., in the church auditorium.

The nursery and beginners departments will offer a number of songs and recitations as their part in the program. The older children will give two dramatic presentations. Pupils in the primary department will present "Suffer the Children" and juniors will offer "The 24th Psalm."

Mrs. Charles Duckwald will sing the offertory solo, "I Think When I Read That Sweet Story of Old" and the anthem "Lift Up Your Heads" will be sung by the Junior choir. The offering will be taken up by the Boy Scouts of the church.

Arrangements for the program are in charge of Mrs. Howard Miller, Mrs. Charles Divilbiss, Mrs. J. R. Weeks, Mrs. Wayne Ward and Mrs. Charles Ray.

At the 7:30 evening service the Mississippi Girl singers, a group of 14 girls from the First Baptist church in Tupelo, Miss., will present a sacred concert. Rev. H. R. Holcomb, pastor of the Tupelo church will preach at the service. There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

Church and Church School Combined

First Congregational church will hold its annual Children's day service Sunday at 10:30 a. m. at the John Simpson Junior high school auditorium. This will combine the church and church school services for the day.

During the service the church school orchestra will play "Flag Day March" by Fillmore and "Stars and Stripes Forever" by Sousa; Mr. Eugene Smart will play a cello solo, "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn" by Goddard; and Wanda Hess will sing a solo, "A Child and I" by Richardson. All the boys and girls of the church school will form a chorus, which will be directed by Mrs. Thurza Hazeltine. The chorus with the assistance of a reader, William Dietrichson, will present the work of the church school.

The sewing group will meet Thursday at 10:30 a. m. at the Parish House for a picnic.

Commencement To Be Held Sunday

Grace Episcopal church school will hold its annual commencement at the 10:45 a. m. service Sunday. A. Lawrence Price, laysuperintendent, will conduct the service and award the certificates of accomplishment. Richard W. Talbot, school secretary, will present attendance awards. Rev. Glenn F. Lewis, rector, will give the address.

Louise Krause, organist, will play "Barcarolle" by J. Offenbach and "Short Festal Postlude" by Harris. Grace Church Men and Boy Choir will sing "Fairest Lord Jesus," a Silesian Folk song arranged by Noble as the offertory anthem.

Rev. Lewis will head a delegation to Gambier summer conference, the official Episcopal conference on the church's work in Ohio which is held on the campus of Kenyon college, Sunday afternoon. Others who will attend include Frances Brinkerhoff, Mary Martha Warden, Paul Pfahler, Mrs. Stanley Richardson and Richard Talbot.

Activities of the week include Boy Scouts Wednesday at 7; Grace Episcopal Council of Church Women Thursday at 12:30 and choir rehearsals Thursday at 10 a. m. and Saturday at 7.

Unified Service Being Arranged

A unified service consisting of the Children's day exercises, and morning worship, will be conducted at the Church of the Nazarene, 105 Reba avenue Sunday beginning at 9:30 a. m.

Rev. Lena Brandenburg, pastor of the church, will deliver a brief sermon to the children using for a subject, "Samuel's Call."

The program will consist of recitations and songs of the junior department under the direction of Mrs. Helen Wallace.

Young people's groups will meet at 7 p. m. Evening service starts at 8 p. m.

The church annual meeting will be conducted Thursday at 8 p. m. There will also be the election of trustees, stewards, church school board. Sunday school superintendent and delegates to the district assembly.

Baptist Church Program Listed

Annual Children's Day exercises will be held at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow at the Park Avenue Baptist church.

The entire church school will be represented and each department will have a part in the program. Music for the service will be presented by the Junior choir.

Activities of the week include a combined meeting of the Youth and Young Adult fellowships at 6:30 p. m. Sunday, with "Convention Echoes" as the discussion topic: Vacation Bible school, daily at 9 a. m.; and a meeting of the Junior W. W. G. at the home of Janet Bonham, 126 Sycamore street, at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday.

ALCOA WORKERS FLOUT ACCORD

Report To Jobs But Won't Work Despite Lausche Announcement.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—In the face of an agreement announced by Mayor Frank J. Lausche that workers at the Aluminum Company of America plant here would resume smelting operations, 40 furnace tenders on the night shift went home early this morning.

A company spokesman said the 40 men in the third shift reported at the plant at 11 p. m., but refused to work, saying they would leave the walkout matter up to the first shift due to report at 7 this morning.

The night shift early Thursday morning started the work-stoppage which involves three shifts of 120 furnace-members of CIO's Mine, Mill, and Smelter workers union.

PROMISE ATTACK

Soviets Forecast Second front In New War of Nerves.

LONDON —(INS)— The Moscow radio turned the "war of nerves back on the Reich today in a German-language broadcast promising that England and the United States will open the second front this year, according to the daily express.

"English and American troops by the hundreds of thousands will march into Germany in 1942," the Moscow announcer declared. "They will have tens of thousands of planes, tanks and guns."

GETS DEGREE

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Clem Imfled, sr., got his bachelor of law degree from the Y.M.C.A. Law school last night after traveling 35,000 miles for it.

He is municipal court bailiff at Hamilton and drove between that city and here seven years to attend classes. His wife and 10 children saw him graduated.

U. S. BLASTS AT JAP INVADERS IN ALEUTIANS

Army, Navy Planes Seek to Drive Foe From Alaska Island Footholds.

effect that the Japanese have made landings on a small scale on Attu Island, at the extreme tip of the Aleutian archipelago and that Japanese ships have been reported in the harbor of Kiska in the Rat group.

"Japanese operations in the Aleutians are still in progress, according to the information received, although continuing army and navy aircraft attacks have forced them to retire from the populated regions of the islands.

"Attacks of the army and navy forces in the area against these operations are continuing. Weather conditions in these outlying island precluded air search operations until within the last 24 hours."

That communique indicated that American air patrols did not discover the Japanese landings, because of weather conditions, until Thursday at the earliest. Dense sub-arctic fogs probably concealed enemy operations.

Last Wednesday, Tokyo claimed that Japanese troops had landed in the Aleutians. Those claims were denied that day by an American naval spokesman here who said: "None of our inhabited areas, island or rocks are troubled with uninvited visitores up to this time."

The landings in the Aleutians are a sequel to the Japanese air attack on Dutch Harbor and seem to have been timed to coincide with the attempt to invade Midway. Lacking definite information on the enemy's major objectives, observers believed that for the present the Japanese moves against Attu and Kiska are primarily defensive—not steps toward large-scale invasion. They may be intended to forestall American air attacks by way of the Aleutians against Japan.

Although geographically the moves place the enemy in the western hemisphere, the islands invaded actually are much closer to Asia and hundreds of miles from Alaska and several thousands of miles from the Pacific coast of the United States proper.

Japs Lose

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, JUNE 13, 1942.

Drive carefully tomorrow—and remember to have your tires checked and rotated.

A substitute is being anxiously awaited for that popular recipe: "Take half a crate of strawberries and 20 pounds of sugar."

It was in New Guinea that 2,000 natives danced three nights to stamp down the ground for an Allied air field—but the idea may be no good for local application.

Stars and Stripes Symbolize Freedom

WITH OTHER AMERICANS, throughout this nation and in the many scattered lands where Americans now serve, we give recognition tomorrow to the anniversary of the Flag.

It was on another June 14—the year was 1777—that congress authorized the familiar flag with 13 stripes and 13 stars. The national emblem retained that form until May 1, 1795, when the number was increased to 15 stripes and 15 stars.

Finally, in 1818, congress passed a law providing a flag with 13 horizontal stripes, alternate red and white, and 20 white stars on a blue field; and the law further provided that one star be added to the flag for each new state admitted to the union. Since that time additions have been made so that today there are 48 stars.

One of the nation's most beloved traditions tells us that Betsy Ross, sometime around June of 1776, made a Stars and Stripes flag from a pencil sketch supplied by Washington. Historians generally challenge the accuracy of the Betsy Ross story, but it doesn't matter whether the tradition is true in every detail.

The significant part is that the flag we know as "Old Glory" or "The Stars and Stripes" has become one of the most cherished parts of our national life. It is the emblem of courage and faith and devotion to the ideal of freedom.

Francis Scott Key hailed that flag "by the dawn's early light" when the British were attacking Baltimore, and the same flag has flown over Americans in battle ever since.

Again today, on many fronts in many lands, Americans go forward under that flag—a banner that symbolizes freedom and security and enlightenment, and the other things we in America hold dear.

In time of war the flag takes on added significance. So it is today, when in a world of oppression and war and misery the American flag stands out to all liberty-loving people as a bright torch of hope burning in the night. We can well pause on this Flag day for sober reflection on what the flag really means to us.

It is a time for us to be doubly appreciative that we are in the land where that banner proudly flies, a symbol of hope and peace.

Marines Get Spotlight Tonight

TONIGHT it's the marines who are to hold the spotlight in Mansfield's fast-moving panorama of war activities, with the Ohio theater as the scene of colorful ceremonies during which marine recruits will be sworn into service by Capt. T. A. Tighe, who has charge of marine recruiting in the Cleveland district.

Emphasis on the marine branch of service will carry through the motion picture to be shown on this occasion, "To the Shores of Tripoli," which is designed as a tribute to the marine corps and portrays action by the boys who have long been noted for "having the situation well in hand."

Then, too, at this evening's affair, there will be presentation of medals to the 125 News-Journal carriers who have been busily engaged, for the past several months, in selling War Savings stamps to patrons on their routes. Paul M. Eliot, Richland county chairman for the sale of War Savings bonds and stamps, will present the medals as an expression of appreciation of the fine work that these boys have done, and are continuing to do, in aiding the national war effort.

All in all, the program for tonight gives the impression of being along lines that will be entertaining, interesting and inspirational.

Farm Production Increasing

SOME timely comment on the large part American farmers are taking in the national war effort has been made by Fred S. Wallace, head of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency. One shipload of food that crossed the Atlantic lately, he remarks, carried products from 3,800 farms. It takes 42,000 acres to produce the food that feeds the men who build a battleship. A farm growing 169 acres of flax will paint a battleship once.

Mr. Wallace tells with much satisfaction how well prepared the farmers of the nation are now to play their part in the war. Eight months before Pearl Harbor they started their program of bigger production. They have on hand now a billion and a half bushels of wheat, a two-years supply, and another big crop coming along. The nation's farms, on the whole, are in unusually good condition, as a result of careful cultivation, fertilization and repair over many years.

All this progress was not done with a view to war supply, but it serves the same purpose. Farmers deserve much credit for doing their job so well.

War Crosses German Border

NOT SINCE the Thirty Years war, 300 years ago, have the Germans got as much first-hand acquaintance with war as is coming to them nowadays. While Napoleon's troops overran the country and ruled it severely, they wreaked little actual destruction. Except for that comparatively mild experience, the Germans have known of war as something in which their sons might indeed lose their lives, but which was waged on the other fellow's territory and largely at his expense.

Now they are finding out that sooner or later everything in this world must be paid for. War, to the dispossessed dweller in Cologne or Bremen, must seem less of a good investment than it did. If the present process of education continues, the German change of heart may be great.

It's being presented as a possibility that it may be necessary to export labor from here to Australia—and there's Harry Bridges, for instance.

They're still picking on Ham Fish, and it is now being recalled that he was once mentioned for the vice presidency.

Onion growers are making a strong appeal for government aid.

FAME AND HONOR ARE WAITING

Expect Food Rationing Jolt Soon

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

THE FOOD rationing we've experienced thus far hasn't been a circumstance to what it promises to develop into under the committee just set up under Agriculture Secretary Claude R. Wickard's chairmanship, but with War Production Board Chief Donald M. Nelson doing most of the actual bossing, assisted by the heads of about two dozen other emergency agencies, each making suggestions ad libitum.

There are rows over rubber and gas rationing already, but, after all, folk don't literally go hungry for rubber and gasoline and they do for food.

I don't believe that many of us will get all of what he or she especially wants.

The aggravating part of it will be that the rationing won't be exclusively to economize on edibles that we, as Americans, are rather shy on. If we're nationally so short of some sort of chuck that each individual must be contented with a comparatively small plateful of it, or part of us will have to go entirely without, I take it that most of us will be willing to share and share alike with everybody else in the United States.

This coming period of rationing, however, is to be on an international scale. That is to say, we and all the rest of the anti-Axis democracies are to be in on it.

Suppose, for example, that we, here at home, have ample resources in apple pie, for just as much as there's an appetite for at every table in our own land. But suppose that Britain, Russia and the Chinese are fairly perishing for apple pie. In that event, we'll have to content ourselves with half a slice apiece in order to divide up with these allies of ours.

My guess is that it'll make a Yankee apple pie fiend kinda sore to feel that he's being stinted, not for his own countrymen's benefit, but for the benefit of the British, Russians and Chinese.

It's true, they'll be doing the same thing to supply us with their various specialties, but maybe they'll be specialties that American apple pie eaters aren't interested in.

Getting this system inaugurated was the purpose of the recent visit paid to Washington by London's Production Minister Sir Oliver Lyttleton. He took the subject up with our Production Chairman Nelson. Sir Oliver described what he was after as "international production integration." Don Nelson was acquiescent and the committee's going.

There's military integration also.

Mountbatten's Visit.

That's what Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten has been here attending to. He's the British "commando" expert. Until he arrived and explained it, I didn't understand what the term commando meant. Now I know. It's a multiplicity—naval activity, submarines, land artillery, infantry, cavalry, aviation and everything else of a sort to raise military Hades on Axis fronts. It's a combination of all arms, from the zenith on down. And they do say that Hades is what it IS.

Employed against an enemy, you can't kick on a unification of that kind.

Shipping fits into integration likewise—the carrying of men and supplies, I mean.

Diplomacy and propaganda are integrable.

So's industry and so are economics.

But when integration gets into a matter of international household groceries it seems to me that it starts to get personal. Having American rationing done from Washington—oh, yeah! But having it done by a committee, jointly representing Uncle Sam, John Bull, Joe Stalin and Chiang Kai-shek? What'll the American housewife say?

Listen World!

They Served at Bataan

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

THEY ALL WORE SIZE 42. Did you ever try to fit 115 pounds of slim American girlhood into a Size 42 army issue uniform, ample for a Ringling Bros. circus tent? Then add a tin helmet that would dent Gargantua's neck, shoes like rafts, a hefty hunk of gas mask and assorted medical gadgets, then you'll know how 84 as spunky heroes as America ever saw looked and dressed.

Eighty-four American nurses that went through the hells of Bataan and Corregidor to the bitter end. And then were rescued by a miracle and flown to Australia.

They didn't look like heroes as they stepped down from the great wings. They were battered and gaunt, ragged and filthy. They had lived on horse meat—when they could get it. Bathed in mud and slime. Worked ceaselessly without regard for hours through a constant hellfire of Japanese barrage. In their brief hours of relief they had slept under army blankets unwashed for months, blankets stiff with the blood of the wounded and the dying. Yet somehow, through it all, they had still managed to smile . . . to stand unswerving when their eyes were drugged with sleep . . . managed even to give pity, comfort and cheer to desperate, beaten men when their own flesh seemed beyond all feeling.

But now they didn't want to talk about it. They didn't want to be called heroic. They had a horror of festivals and parades. They had stayed by their job until it was finished. They had seen and done things women should never be compelled to see or do. Now they only wanted to go off some place quietly and get a bath and go to sleep.

The nurses who lived through Bataan and Corregidor and the hundreds of others who are following them to China and Libya, Ireland and only God knows where else . . . their names will go down in flame through all the history of America. They will be a challenge to every man and woman who ever bears the name American. There is no tribute too great to pay them.

And yet they are not new. We have all known others like them, tiny, wrinkled old grandmothers who sit by the fireside now but who once licked the wilderness with their driving determination and pride. Pioneer mothers who brought up their eight or ten children on less than the average apprentice earns today. Gently bred belles from the South, firm-chinned beauties from the North, who stood staunchly beside their men, loading the muskets which they fired, who battled the stubborn soil of unmapped wilderness for its reluctant harvest.

The women who have made and saved America . . . side by side they march with their men down the long trail of our democracy. Shoulder by shoulder they have fought and are still fighting to make that democracy possible. Never be surprised at women. They have wings you cannot see.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Harriet Beecher Stowe, author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," was born on June 13, 1811. Her novel, a pathetic but exaggerated portrayal of the cruelties practiced by slave drivers, sold hundreds of thousands of copies and greatly stimulated the abolitionist movement. Meeting the author at the White House, President Lincoln is said to have greeted her as "the woman who brought on the Civil war."

Timely Editorial

Those "Lower Incomes."

Marse Henry Morgenthau, the treasury's keeper, does not talk like one who has ever had to snitch carfare from the kiddies' pig bank.

Marse Henry specified his own habitual standard of living the other day when he defined the lower income bracket as anything under $5,000.

This pretty little dish was garnished with a gem of understatement—Marse Henry's opinion that after deductions for the oncoming new taxes, the group under $5,000 would have taken all it could stand "at this time."

Fortunately for Marse Henry's composure, he is not exposed to many specimens of the hoi polloi and runs little danger of discovering that $5,000 a year, nearly $100 a week, is rated as heap big oats on the wrong side of the tracks. Yum yum.—Toledo Blade.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Postpone General Gas Rationing Until After Scrap Rubber Drive

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

REPORTERS pounced on Secretary Ickes, just emerging from an 11-man conference with President Roosevelt on the rubber and gasoline tangle. Did Mr. Secretary have anything to say? He did. Said Mr. Ickes:

"Hello."

It made just about as much sense as most of the previous confusing, contradictory statements on the ticklish double puzzle. But by mid-week, finally, something definite was in the offing:

Before long, the president announced, every American was going to have a share in unraveling what he called the mystery novel about gas and rubber. No one knows, he said, just how much reclaimable scrap rubber is available in the United States, and there's only one way to find out.

So, for two weeks, Johnny and Sister and Mother and Dad are all to pitch in and dig up all the old rubber they can find—leaky hot water bottles, old inner tubes, the discarded tire that's serving now as a swing in the backyard tree.

No Rationing Until—

Then, at the end of that salvaging period, America will know for the first time whether there is enough old rubber to make unnecessary a national curb on automobile driving.

Until the answer is known, the president hinted, there won't be any nation-wide gas rationing.

Scrap rubber estimates have run from 10,000,000 tons, by a business man, to 700,000 tons, by a WPB expert.

The most, says OPA's Leon Henderson, that can be expected of rubber reclamation in 1942 is 300,000 tons or 36,000,000 miles of wear. That's one-sixth the amount of tire-burning that U. S. passenger cars totaled in '41 and Henderson, at least before the president's announcement, was still sticking up for national rationing. Said he:

"Even if improvement in the scrap situation were to make possible the top-capping of 6 million passenger car tires this year ... there is no reason to regard the motor transport problem as solved."

Recaps For 20 Million.

Meanwhile, a senate committee studied a bill which would permit annual allocation of 3,500 tons of crude rubber and 85,000 tons of reclaimed rubber each year for recapping and retreading tires. Senator Ellender (D-Ga), papa of the measure, said it would permit operation of at least 20,000,000 autos, or two-thirds the total number of passenger cars. That figure, he said, was necessary for a "sound civilian economy."

At Home

Synthetic Confusion.

From all over the country came suggestions to lawmakers studying the puzzle. Possible sources for synthetic rubber included milkweed, goldenrod, poinsettias, sunflowers.

It was still all very confusing. About the only certain thing in the whole puzzle was that synthetic rubber could be made. One group of senators, after watching a Goodrich executive perform in their committee room, were convinced that it could be, and easily.

The executive poured two liquids into a beaker. Ten seconds later he squeezed surplus liquid from the residue, moulded himself a ball, and bounced it on the floor before the amazed senators. Oregon's Senator McNary was the first to speak, remarked only, "I'll be darned."

Cartels Again.

Trust-buster Thurman Arnold, who places much of the blame for America's war unpreparedness on international cartels, sees another danger from those trade agreements.

Increasing military strength, Arnold explains, will sooner or later make us "temporarily safe from attack."

Then, he warns, international cartels suspended—not terminated—during the war will exert their influence for a "peace without victory." His explanation:

"Their international financing power, their control of world markets all depend upon taking up with Germany where they left off."

He Also Serves . . .

Flier Jordan T. Luhr was killed before he ever got a chance to complete his cadet training and take a plane into action against the enemy. He died in the crash of an Army ship in Georgia.

But the 26-year-old aviation cadet, a professional model in New York before he joined the army, continues to serve.

Chosen because of his modeling experience to pose for war posters, Luhr's grinning face appears at countless War Bond sales counters, tells the customers:

"You buy 'em, we'll fly 'em."

Pantry Pinch.

"HMM," hmmed coffee-gulping Americans behind their morning papers, "this is war!"

Coffee—and tea and cocoa — said the headlines, might soon be rationed. Could anything, to a nation of round-the-clock coffee drinkers, be worse?

Plenty could be worse, but probably wouldn't be. Said WPB's division of civilian supply, through Deputy Director Joseph L. Weiner:

"Americans need fear nothing but the sacrifice of some comforts which other nations have not enjoyed, even in times of peace."

Abroad

Japan's Millstone.

How much simpler Japan's problems would be, her people have sighed, if only she could finish up the Chinese "incident!" That "incident" alone has been such a drag on Japanese men and resources, that Japanese have had to live in near poverty.

Recently Japan has had new reasons for wanting to control all of China. Full domination would give her overland routes to her southeastern possessions in Malaya, Thailand and Burma out of reach of Allied sea power. Further it would remove the danger of Allied air bases in coastal provinces being used to bomb Tokyo.

So Japan has started a new campaign to exterminate Free China. The main fighting during the week was for the walled city of Chuhsien in the coastal Chekiang province. An air base that has worried Japan is nearby.

The invaders claimed possession of the city. Three days later the Chinese said the Japanese had been ousted but admitted the situation "remains grave."

In the face of this new drive, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, in Chungking, bubbled optimism. China, he said, had already passed through her most critical period in her war with Japan.

S.O.S. for Big Brother.

For days the Italians pounded away at Bir Hacheim, inland anchor of the vital British defense line before Tobruk. Every day for a week the Free French defenders of the odorous but important waterhole calmly refused Italian demands to surrender.

Then, like a youngster who threatens to "get my big brother," the Italians warned they would bring in heavy German forces unless the defenders gave in.

General Pierre Koenig, tall, grizzled Alsatian veteran of the Foreign Legion, wirelessed headquarters that all he needed was continued supplies.

Finally big brother came—heavy German tank forces called from the main battle area to finish off the waterhole fort. But they folded under cannon fire and RAF bombings.

From Zephyrs to Whirlwinds.

RAF photographs of bomb-battered Cologne showed that eight square miles of factory districts and heavily populated regions were razed. A German official in Paris was reported to have confided that at least 11,000 persons were killed and 180,000 evacuated.

But to the chief of the RAF's bomber command, A. T. Harris, the Cologne raid was just a "gentle zephyr" compared to what is ahead for German cities. He suggested that soon 10,000 bombers, British and American, might fly over Germany in a single night.

Meanwhile stocking-footed Commandos were further rattling the Germans with an attack on the French coast between Boulogne and Le Touquet.

Tough Guy Penelope.

Officially the name is Penelope, but to the crew of the doughty British cruiser she is "H. M. S. Pepperpot."

When Axis bombers filled her full of holes while she was tied up at Malta, the sailors first applied the Pepperpot moniker. Repaired, and on her way to Gibraltar, she ran into more gunfire and the new holes were plugged with wood. Then she was known as the "H. M.S. Porcupine."

Later, when a direct bomb hit littered the decks with debris, she became the "H.M.S. Rock Garden."

Now she's the Pepperpot again, full of holes and tied up at an eastern port until they're plugged.

Purge Master's Funeral.

Grim and silent, thousands of Czechs stood before Hradshin castle in Prague. They were there neither to bury their Heydrich nor to praise him. They were there because the German authorities had ordered them to attend.

If the Czechs there were mourning it was for the nearly 300 countrymen murdered by a rampaging Gestapo after the death of Reinhard Heydrich, their German-appointed Protector.

Heydrich was not buried in Czech soil. He was shipped back to Berlin for another funeral service, where Heinrich Himmler, Heydrich's boss, said "it is our holy duty to avenge" still further Heydrich.

Czechs soon had a chilling illustration of what he meant. All the men in the Czech village, Lidice, were shot, the women deported to concentration camps, the children sent to "educational centers," the village leveled. The Germans suspected the village had harbored Heydrich assassins.

"AIN'T had a chance to cool in many a bright what with clambakes all the way from the Land O' Darkness to the sunny southland. Though a little beat for doss and saucers under the glims, Old Cab and all the cats are ready to send hep-cats and ickies both blowing their tops at the Strand. It would be just like home cooking if you and the Main Queen would lamp us when you get a chance and say hello."

This lucid, matter of fact little note is from Cab Calloway, and it is his way of saying that he and his Cotton Club boys open an engagement at the Strand theater on Broadway soon. Although "beat for doss," which means he's tired and has circles under the eyes because of continuous engagements all over the country, from Harlem ("Land O' Darkness") to the gulf, he and the hep-cats (boys in the band) are going to really GIVE, and they'd be pleased if you and the Main Queen (your best girl) would drop around to catch the show and say hello.

All this is Harlemese, or jive right out of the revised edition of Cab's Cat-O-logue, an up to date dictionary of Harlem slang. Some of the terms and definitions in this dictionary are singular, to say the least. . . . For instance, "beat" means tired, exhausted. . . . If a cat says 'I am beat to my socks," he means "I'm lacking everything." . . . A "battle" is a very homely girl, a crone. . . . "Beat up the chops" means "come on, say something. Be loquacious." . . . "Dry long so" means fate, or "that's life for you." . . . A "nickel note" is a $5 bill. . . . "Trilly" means somebody is going to leave, depart, take off. . . . "I'll dig you in a few tricks" means I'll meet you in a few minutes.

Quotes

Eugene Meyer, publisher of the Washington Post: "Victory, in itself, does not mean peace. It can only mean the creation of a state of affairs in which peace can be achieved and maintained."

Ambassador Leahy, upon returning home from Vichy, Franch: "The sense of freedom that one feels upon arriving in America is completely beyond my facility with words to express."

In Short

Crashed: Two training blimps on an experimental mission off New Jersey. Twelve of the 13 men aboard the craft were believed dead.

Indicted: William Dudley Pelley, leader of the Silver Shirts of America, by a Federal grand jury, on charges of seditious activities.

Arrived: In the United States, King George II of Greece, to arrange lease-lend shipments of war supplies to Greek fighting forces.

Approved: By the WPB, immediate construction of a 24-inch steel pipeline from Longview, Texas, to Salem, Ill., which it said would provide "an increased supply" of oil to the East Coast within six months.

county Democrats will have only two.

The five contests in the county and senatorial and congressional districts are for the Republican nominations for congress, state senator, and county commisioner and the Democratic nominations for congress and county commissioner.

Democrats in the 17th district, including Richland county, have an intra-party battle for state central committeeman in the district, an office now held by E. B. Kallmerten of Mansfield. The candidates are J. Freer Bittinger, present state Democratic chairman, and Charles M. Beer. Both are Ashland countians.

The largest primary field is for the G. O. P. nomination for state senator in the 27th-29th district which is normally Republican. Only one senator will be elected next fall although the district has had two during the past two years. The candidates are Joseph Jameson, P. H. Rogers, and Elmer Borchert, all of Lorain county; C. J. Pittenger of Richland county, and Ralph A. Winter of Medina county.

Both parties have contests for the congressional nominations. Opposing Congressman J. Harry McGregor on the Republican ticket is Col. Oliver H. Dockery of Newark. Candidates on the Democratic side are A. Ross Siverling of Ashland and Samuel A. Anderson of Newark.

With five candidates filed for county commissioner, both parties also will have contests for that office. The three Democrats in the race are C. L. Mitchell, incumbent; E. P. Long, and Fred Bricker. Seeking the Republican nomination are John C. Friday and C. L. Shoup. Only one commissioner will be elected in the fall.

Candidates who will be unopposed in the Aug. 11 primary are:

Democrats — Ralph Lutz for state representative; Judge C. H. Huston, common pleas judge; Norman L. Wolfe, county auditor.

Republicans—John L. Catlett, state representative; Municipal Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch for common pleas judge, and Alden H. Heath for county auditor.

In the state, one Democrat and four Republican incumbents are unopposed they are Secretary of State John E. Sweeney (D.) and Lieut. Gov. Paul M. Herbert, state treasurer Don H. Ebright, Atty. Gen. Thomas J. Herbert and Supreme Court Judge Edward C. Turner.

The complete list of candidates:

"We're not going to vote on something we have known about for only five minutes," said Vaughn. "These matters should be known and discussed by councilmen prior to the meeting so an intelligent vote may be given."

Shultz also protested the "jamming" of legislation. "You just can't throw a bunch of legislation on a table and expect it to be passed," said Shultz.

Other councilmen agreed that only the resurfacing of U. S. Route 42 and 42-A and the transfer of $4,000 for civilian defense should be considered.

Councilman James R. Anderson suggested that the street oiling resolution was needed and it was this that prompted Vaughn's "buck-passing" statement.

Kyle's suggested plan for resurfacing Glessner avenue came only two weeks after street workers had spent several days repairing the street by filling holes with "cut-back" asphalt material.

Kyle suggested that the contractor was already to proceed with the resurfacing of Glessner avenue tomorrow.

"We don't care if he's ready tonight," both Vaughn and Shultz said. "The matter needs more consideration."

Other pieces of legislation which were to have been presented by Kyle were the vacating of Green street between Mendota street and Ohio street and the changing of the name of the remainder of Green street to Ohio street; the appropriation of $7,500 for the purchase of a street sweeper, the improvement of Lida street, the vacating of an alley on Grant street, the appropriation of $650 for the erection of a wire fence around the Hedges street pumping station, and the street oiling resolution.

MANSFIELD BUSINESS IN REVIEW

Weaver's Home Supply Helps Keep Away Heat With Quality Beers, Delicious Wines

Sixth Year In Business Celebrated

Owner Suggests Wine to Give Relief From Heatwaves.

Over a period of six years, the Weaver Home Supply Service, 59 South Diamond street, has brought into Mansfield homes that relaxation and enjoyment found only in quality beverages.

Friday, J. Sherman Weaver, proprietor of Weaver's Home Supply, celebrated the sixth anniversary of the establishment of his service.

Within those six years, Weaver has drawn upon 32 years of experience in the brewing industry and a long attachment and study for finer wines. Eight of those 32 years were served as brewmaster for the Renner and Weber Brewing company of Mansfield.

Weaver was born in Kentucky but his family moved to Mansfield when he was only three years old. He was educated in Mansfield schools and then after working at various occupations found the one which suited him best.

The proprietor of Mansfield's most popular beverage service is proud of the facilities and products he offers the public.

Up until the war made breweries curtail production, Weaver was able to offer 46 varieties of quality beer. Even now, he keeps 32 varieties in the large warehouse and modern coolers at the rear of his shop.

Keeps 4,500 Bottles Cool.

These coolers hold more than 4,500 bottles of beer at a time and on busy nights—especially Fridays and Saturdays—the coolers are emptied and refilled at least three times. Some days more than 15,000 bottles of beer are sold.

But although he maintains a huge supply of beer for thirsty Mansfielders, Weaver is really proud of his wines. One of the largest and best stocks of wines in northcentral Ohio fills the shelves of his shop.

A customer can see French and Italian brands which have long since left the regular market. Weaver purchased large stocks of these imported wines two years ago when he foresaw the breaking down of production and transportation in Europe.

Among the imported wines presented by Weaver are some dating back to 1912. He also maintains quality California, New York and Ohio wines.

"Ohio is fortunate to be in a wine belt," says Weaver. The Lake Erie climate helps grow the grapes which produce wines rivaling imported ones. New York and Ohio have produced wines far better than America had 20 years ago."

Weaver can't help feel that wine will become the favorite drink of most Mansfielders. "The taste must be acquired," he says, "but once you get used to wine, you wouldn't give it up for anything in the world."

The beverage dealer especially recommends wine for the summer months. Long cool drinks with a wine base meet most any standard of measurement, according to Weaver.

Urges Use of Wine.

Then, too serving wine is becoming the smart thing to do. Americans are beginning to replace other every-day beverages with wine.

"The serving of wines is as easy and simple as the serving of any other beverage," says Weaver. "Enjoyment is the thing. You are perfectly correct in serving the wines you and your guests like best—in any way you find convenient."

Weaver also urges Mansfield housewives to try wine in cooking. Wine contains certain salts and sugars which point up the goodness of the food—bring out the flavors usually hidden. The alcohol in the wine evaporates in the cooking.

In ordinary cooking with wine, you do not have to follow a recipe. When you add other seasonings, pour in a little wine as well. Claret, Burgundy, Sauterne, Sherry and Port are used the most for flavoring.

Weaver's Home Supply will furnish any housewife with a book of recipes using wine.

Most important right now when summer's heat is pouring down, according to Weaver, is the use of wine coolers to combat high temperatures.

"Wine has that miraculous combination of being good for you and delicious at the same time," says Weaver. "Then too, now that the government has taken over gin for military uses, a substitute must be found for the Tom Collins.

Wine Makes Coolers.

"A wine collins fills the need and is as good or better than the original Tom Collins and can be enjoyed the year round. All you do to make a wine collins is to add the juice of a half lemon or lime to a half glass of wine, put in ice cubes and sugar and fill with sparkling water. After you've found how good this is come around to the shop and we'll show you how to make a bamboo cocktail, a sherry old-fashioned, wine flips, party punch, and dozens of other delicious wine drinks that will make this summer one long, cool vacation."

Although the wine has always been considered a standard fixture for royal banquets, the prices at Weavers do not run high. The shop maintains expensive and inexpensive wines to suit every taste and pocketbook.

In addition to the beers and wines, Weaver keeps on hand all of the supplies needed for a successful picnic or house-party including popcorn, potato chips, cheeses, olives, pickles, desserts and several other party items.

Then too, there are the mysterious liquids such as vermouth, grenadine and cordials used to mix cocktails. Weaver was lucky enaugh to purchase a large supply of these at the same time that he grabbed up imported wines.

Thanks to Weaver's foresightedness, Mansfielders need not worry about having the best in beverages for the duration.

One of the finest stocks of beers and wines is available at Weaver's Home Supply Service, 59 South Diamond street. J. Sherman Weaver, owner, shown in the picture above outlining the better points of one of his wines, celebrated his sixth anniversary in business on Friday. Weaver maintains a large stock of beverages and is able to keep 4,500 bottles cool at a time in his modern cooler storage system.

Pictures Tell Story But Need To Be Engraved

Where words fail, a story in a picture leaves nothing untold. This has long been considered as an axiom in newspaper and photo-engraving circles.

A good portion of the pictures that Mansfielders see in advertisements of Mansfield business and industries are presented only because of the craftsmanship of the Mansfield Photo-Engraving company, 127 North Walnut street, operated by C. D. Sherrard and P. O. Dickerson.

The Mansfield Photo-Engraving company has the facilities and ability to supply engravings for practically any purpose which a Mansfield business or industry would require.

Pictures taken by photographers might be circulated by hand but only a few persons would see them. It is only when photo-engraving has prepared a printing plate which will faithfully reproduce the picture that it is possible to print thousands of copies for distribution.

The Statue of Freedom surmounting the dome of the Capitol at Washington is made entirely of bronze and weighs 14,985 pounds.

URGES OWNERS TO KEEP CHECK ON APPLIANCES

Zitzer Cautions Housewives Forgetting to Disconnect Electric Items.

Ten thousand telephone calls every day are ended with the words "Good-bye. I've got to go. I smell something burning."

Charles M. Zitzer, owner of the Zitzer Electric company, 41 East Fourth street, is familiar with this because many a housewife has told him of rushing out to the kitchen to find that, when she answered the telephone, she forgot to disconnect her electric iron, curling iron, toaster or some other appliance.

Zitzer's is ready to supply Mansfield housewives with almost any electrical appliance they want from waffle irons to washing machines or automatic ironers. But Mr. Zitzer is also interested in helping the housewives use their appliances wisely.

The electric iron left standing may burn a hold in her best dress. Or the curling iron may be searing the woodwork of her dressing table. Or the toaster is charring the bread. Sometimes she finds she can save the situation but sometimes she must call the fire department.

"Every housewife should form the habit of disconnecting any electric appliance every time she leaves the room, even for a moment," says Zitzer. "She may be delayed. If she makes a habit of disconnecting electrical appliances, that habit may save her life. Get the disconnecting habit."

MORNING WEDDING FOR BETTY JANE WHITE

Vows of Betty White and Edward J. McNamara Exchanged at 9:30 In St. Peter's Church Parsonage.

THIS morning at 9:30 in the St. Peter's Roman Catholic church parsonage, Miss Betty Jane White became the bride of Edward James McNamara. The Rev. John H. Flynn officiated for the service. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Turner, 215 Vennum avenue.

For her wedding, the bride chose a powder blue print suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of white rose buds. Her attendant was Mrs. Alice Mott, the groom's sister, and Andrew Mott was best man. Mrs. Turner was attired in a green print chiffon dress with a gardenia corsage.

The groom's mother wore a black dress with white accessories and a gardenia shoulder corsage. After the ceremony, a small reception was held at the Turner home for the immediate family and a few friends. The couple then left for their wedding trip somewhere east.

Mrs. McNamara graduated from Mansfield senior high school and is employed by Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company. Mr. and Mrs. John McNamara, 37 Glenwood boulevard, are Mr. McNamara's parents. He was graduated from St. Peter's high school and is at present stationed with the army air corps in Albuquerque, N. Mex. His wife will make her home with her parents for the time being.

Mrs. Balliett Has Shower to Fete Recent Bride

Mrs. Gary Balliett, Lucas read, entertained last evening with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Woodrow Cline, who was recently married. The hostess presented her with a lovely gift of crystal.

Prizes for the contests and bunco game were awarded to Miss Marjorie Calver and Mrs. Barney Adams, who in turn presented them to the honoree. Refreshments were served at a long table having orchid, pink and white appointments. An orchid and pink umbrella with little white brides on either side centered the table.

Further decoration was added by a crystal three-branch candelabra with pink lighted tapers. By each place was a small orchid basket of favors with a pink umbrella. From the centerpiece were streamers attached to individual place cards of miniature pink umbrellas bearing the guests' names and verses telling the honoree the hiding places of her gifts.

Shower Honoring Mrs. J. Hazlett

Mrs. James Hazlett, the former Maxine Raymond, was honored with a miscellaneous shower given Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Arthur Harnagel, Wooster road.

Winning the prizes for 500 and pinochle were Mrs. Paul Plank, Mrs. Dave Scrafield and Mrs. George Kinstle who presented them to the honoree. Luncheon was served at small tables carrying the color scheme of pink and white.

Miss Raymond and Mr. Hazlett were united in marriage by the Rev. Edward G. Corwin at the First Methodist church parsonage, May 21. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Raymond of Williamstown, W. Va. Mrs. Arthur Harnagel, Wooster road, is the bridegroom's mother.

LOYAL DAUGHTERS MEET.

The Loyal Daughters of the St. John's Evangelical and Reform church held a chicken dinner Thursday evening at the North Lake park pavilion. Twelve members attended. Another picnic is planned for some time in July.

Pythian Sisters To Have Picnic

When the Pythian Sisters met Friday evening in the K. of P. hall, plans were made to have a picnic at North Lake park with the Knights of Pythias. Date set is July 17. The group also discussed plans for a party to be given at the home of Mrs. Lillian Arting, 18 South Benton street. Business session was in charge of Mrs. Mary Charles, most excellent chief.

During the social hour prizes were won by Mrs. Louise Koerper, Mrs. Florence Burghard, Miss Pearl Wierman and Mrs. LaDoris Hess. Mrs. Nellie Phipps, chairman, Mrs. Carrie Harris, and Mrs. Wilma Maul comprised the refreshments committee. Next meeting will be held at the K. of P. hall on July 10.

Tri Gamma Sorority Have Steak Fry

The Delta chapter of Tri Gamma sorority held a steak fry and covered dish dinner Wednesday evening in a woods with Mrs. Harry Rist and Mrs. Jack Pealer serving as hostesses.

Fourteen members and two guests, who were former members, Mrs. George Bender of Newark, N. J., and Mrs. Russell Doehla from Mt. Vernon, were present. Hostesses for the next meeting, June 24, will be Mrs. Robert Small and Mrs. L. C. Smaltz.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

Mrs. Mitchell Is Hostess to Church Group

Hostess to the Helping Hand Bible class of the First Presbyterian church for a meeting on Friday was Mrs. Frank G. Mitchell, 633 Coleman road. Mrs. J. A. Kramer, president, conducted the business session. Thirty-one members and one guest, Mrs. Harry A. Ballet, were present.

The group sewed for Mansfield General hospital. Devotions were led by Mrs. Anna Starkey. After the salute to the flag, Mrs. Theodore Frank read "The Origin and Evolution of the American Flag." Refreshments were served at a table centered with a floral arrangement. Miss Edith Douglas, class teacher, served tea. Associate hostesses were Mrs. E. D. Flinn, Mrs. Mary Diemer and Mrs. Charles F. Remy. Plans were made to have a picnic at North Lake park on July 10.

Mrs. Louis Rahn Entertains Club At Home Friday

Thirteen members of the Mansfield Garden Study club were present when Mrs. Louis Rahn entertained Friday at her home, 1034 Woodland road. Roll call was answered with a sentence about hobby flowers. Mrs. Clarence Lisle gave "Information Please" and presented the topic, "Control of Garden Pests." Letter of congratulation on the "Tulip Tea" and musicale given recently by the club was received from Mrs. Margaret Moeller, state president, and was read at the meeting.

The group voted to give a sum of money to the USO. Because of the need to conserve tires and gasoline, the members decided to dispense with their annual pilgrimage. Meeting on June 26 will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Charles Birch, who moved recently to 85 Linwood street in Norwalk.

AUXILIARY BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. Dean Leuthner was hostess to the American Legion Auxiliary bridge club at the Legion home recently. Five tables of bridge were in play and prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Benedict and Mrs. Frank Duff. Hostess for a meeting on June 23 will be Mrs. Clyde Maxwell.

AT LEISY'S CABIN.

E. C. Leisy was host Friday evening to 28 members of the Shrine club for a committee meeting at his cabin on Woodland road. Plans were made for a formal dinner-dance to be held at Westbrook Country club on July 11.

A Summer Favorite

SHANTUNGS GO FORMAL
One of the season's smartest fabrics is shantung—fresh, non-crushable and easy to wear. Always a summer favorite, it now steps confidently into the evening picture. This lithe New York creation of bright red shantung, neatly tailored and flattering, is tied at the bodice with white organdy, drawn through rhinestone eyelets.

"We" Club Members Are Entertained

Miss Annie Burger entertained twelve members of the "We" club at the home of Mrs. Lily Marley on Lucas road, Thursday evening. The hostess received the gift of a white summer purse from her secret pal.

Mrs. Marley and Mrs. Mary Moser won the prizes for the card game. On July 2, Mrs. Esther Moser will entertain at her home, 113 South Foster street.

PLAN STEAK ROAST.

Lunch was served on the terrace at a table decorated with garden flowers when Miss Rose Bender was hostess recently to members of the Social Pon-go club. Plans were made to have a steak roast on June 23 at the home of Miss Sue Pifer, 308 Third avenue. Miss Pifer is in charge of arrangements. The group sewed at this week's meeting. Mrs. Fred Kinkle and Mrs. Peter Kinkle were welcomed as new members.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETS.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary met recently to plan various projects. Twenty-five dollars was raised to give for some needed device of civilian defense. This was sponsored by the fifth district. A flag day program was arranged for June 15. On June 22 a memorial service will be held at the home for all departed members.

CLUB HAS PICNIC.

Twenty-three were present when members of the Review of Reviews club and their families enjoyed a steak fry at Middle park on Friday. This was the club's last meeting of the season. The members will reconvene on Sept. 11 at the home of Mrs. Howard Fox on Harker street. Subject for the roll call program will be "Home Crafts—Modern and Antique, Their History and Display."

TOWN AND COUNTRY CLUB.

The Town and Country Garden club held an all day outing yesterday at the cabin of Mrs. H. W. Gibbs. The women studied the wild flower trail which was planted several years ago and at noon cooked their lunch over an open fire. June 26 will be the next meeting at the home of Mrs. S. H. Cramer, 235 Rowland avenue.

Before the war, Japan was one of the principal exporters of canaries to the United States.

Annual Outing To Be Held by Circle In July

June roses in many varieties and colors were the attractive table decorations when 45 members of the Mothers' Home Circle had a covered-dish dinner in North Lake park pavilion Friday noon. The flowers were later sent to members of the Circle who are ill. Hostesses for the all-day meeting were Mrs. Dorothy Rantz, Mrs. Eva Mitchell, Mrs. Glenna Pfleiderer, Mrs. Howard Conn, Mrs. Fred Lewis and Mrs. B. F. Beal.

Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Mary Woolard. Mrs. Irene Hines, president, conducted the business session during which reports on welfare work were given. Plans were made for the Circle's annual picnic, which will be held at Johns park on July 10. Officers will be in charge. At Friday's meeting the group did quilting, completed two large bed comforts and pieced four comfort tops.

Linnaeus Garden Members Meet

Fourteen members of the Linnaeus garden club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. William Fisher, 172 Western avenue. The hostess, who is also the Red Cross chairman, gave the women material for hospital bags, which they are to fill and later send to some hospital.

Mrs. Raymond Hammer gave an interesting talk on the many uses of herbs in cooking along with some recipes to try. After the dessert luncheon was served at tables centered with roses, the group visited Mrs. Fisher's garden. June 26 will be the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Payne, 187 Cline avenue.

HOROSCOPE

FOR SUNDAY, JUNE 14.

Sunday's horoscope is a most impressive one, with forecast of all sorts of adventures and activities, affecting life in all its forms and directions. There may be unusual, singular or surprising experiences, with contracts with strange persons or unconventional problems. These may arouse high nervous tension or excitements having unfavorable physical reactions. The intimate life may be involved.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of many diverse and unusual experiences and adventures, with promise of a fair success and good fortune if nervous tension or strain be not allowed to produce undermining physical reactions. There may be much pleasure, popularity and festivity as well as business stimuli.

FOR MONDAY, JUNE 15

Monday's astrological forecast is for an eventful, pleasant and intriguing state of affairs in which probably all commonplace and sordid objectives may be eclipsed by social, romantic and domestic matters or the pursuit of pleasure. Exalted ambitions of a philanthropic and benevolent nature may be fulfilled.

Those whose birthday it is may look for an exceptionally active, happy and productive year, in which the personal and intimate affairs of life and its advancement and enjoyment are likely to supersede all commonplace interests. Romance and happiness are intriguing, although public service and philanthropy should bring personal popularity.

A child born on this day, while having worthy ambitions with warmth and generosity of feelings and emotion, may suffer from excesses and extravagant bids for the limelight.

PATRICIA ANN BOYLAN, EDWARD OLSEN WED

Marriage Held This Morning In St. Peter's Catholic Church for Couple Who Leave for Columbus.

THE wedding of Miss Patricia Ann Boylan and Edward Thomas Olsen was solemnized this morning at 9:30 in the St. Peter's Roman Catholic church by Msgr. R. C. Goebel. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lynn Boylan, Cook road.

The church was decorated with palms and Raymond Baum played organ music. The bride's father gave her in marriage. For the occasion she wore a dress of navy blue jersey with white accessories and a white rose corsage. Mrs. N. G. Knight, her cousin, who was the matron of honor, chose a rose dress with white accessories and a white rose corsage for her ensemble.

Mrs. Boylan was dressed in beige and brown having a corsage of yellow tea roses. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Olsen of Columbus, were unable to be present. George Boch was the best man.

For her traveling costume, Mrs. Olsen was attired in brown and beige. The couple's new address will be on Mound street in Columbus. She is a graduate of Mansfield senior high and was with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company. The groom graduated from the Holy Rosary school in Columbus and is employed with the Empire Sheet and Tin Plate company.

Plan Convention Of Junior Club

The Sarah E. Lewis Junior club met yesterday afternoon in Memorial hall to make plans for their convention. Mrs. Leona Locke, Mrs. Sarah Case and Mrs. Sarah Jane Neff, their advisors, were in charge.

Miss Ruth Wagner, president, conducted the business during which time Miss Phyllis Miller was elected junior vice-president. The state convention will be held Monday, June 22, in Columbus at the Deshler-Wallick hotel. The Misses Naomi Locke, state department secretary, and Ruth Wagner, delegate, plan to attend.

If arrangements can be made, several of the other members will make the trip. The June 26 meeting has been changed to a poke-lunch at the home of Miss Beatrice Shade, 447 South Main street. The next regular meeting at Memorial hall will be July 10.

CLARA BARTON SOCIETY.

A wiener roast-picnic was held by the members of the Clara Barton society recently at the home of Miss Maxine Stevens, Walker street. Prizes for the various contests and games were won by the Misses Arlene Koon, Betty Constance, Helen Krupp and Bonnie Human. The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Betty Parrott, 518 Johns avenue.

Installation of Officers Held By Auxiliary

Formal installation service was held last night for the new officers of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Eagles lodge. Those installed at the meeting in the lodge hall were Mrs. Thelma Fisher, president; Mrs. Mary Hartman, junior past madam president; Mrs. Josephine Dougherty, vice president; Mrs. Alice Stutz, chaplain; Mrs. Katherine Stutz, inside guard; Mrs. Katherine Heichel, outside guard; Mrs. Nellie Morrison, conductress; Mrs. Donna Berg, secretary; Mrs. Katherine Hockensmith, treasurer; and Mrs. Josephine Smith, reporter.

Installing officer was Mrs. Thelma Fisher of Crestline, president of the auxiliary in that city. Floor work was presented by the drill team under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeh Blocker. Fancy drill was put on by the team after the meeting. Luncheon was served by the chairman, Mrs. Butler.

Party Given for Son In College

Mrs. Fred Troll, 430 Glessner avenue, assisted by Mrs. Louis Rahn and Robert Frey, entertained a group of friends Thursday evening in honor of her son, Frederic, who leaves today for Angola, Ind. He is enrolled as a student at Tri State college there.

Music and contests were the diversion of the evening with defense stamp prizes going to Darrel Smith, David Brunk, Justin Seiler, and the Misses Jean George and Donna Porter. Refreshments were served at a long table on which was a crystal rose bowl with floating candles, for a centerpiece.

Mrs. Boyd Robinson Entertains Club

Eight members of the Friendly dinner club enjoyed a covered-dish dinner yesterday at the home of Mrs. Boyd Robinson, 187 South Foster street.

Mrs. Louise Pollock was the guest present. A social time was spent and plans made for the next meeting in July with Mrs. Harley Miles, 81 West Park boulevard as hostess.

A Man's Woman + + +

CHAPTER V

Kay said, a surge within her, "Not only can I take it, Mr. Lord, but I like it so much that—oh Mr. Lord, would you mind holding my hand for just a minute, I mean clasping it for a seal of our compact. Nothing like this has ever happened to me before. I've never been anything except useless. I want to earn my way, honestly."

Lord took Kay's hand. He did not hold it loosely. He clasped it.

"I think you have the stuff Miss Kenyon," he said. "It won't be easy, you being who you are. You'll be in charge of the candy counter, and you'll take a hand at the lunch and tea tables, kind of keep an eye on them. I'll put it on the line . . . you have no experience, but you'll be an asset on account of your social standing in Somerset. A lot of your friends will come in to see what goes on. They'll want to see a Kenyon wearing an apron for wages. We'll fool 'em. You'll wear one of those old-fashioned dresses with ruffles on 'em, full skirts that kind of sweep the floor and white lacey stuff over the shoulders. You're a lady, so we'll stake a lady scene, all the way through."

Kay's eagerness which she had lost at the door coming into the Sweet Shop, returned a thousand fold.

"It's too good to be true," she said. "When do I start. I have the costumes—dresses—all I need to do is to rifle a few trunks in the attic. I should have a day or two, maybe longer, to familiarize myself with the stock—"

"We'll make it two days. I'll go over it with you, then Bessie Munsell can fix you up when you're in doubt. Bessie knows figures, but she knows nothing about people. Bessie is another machine, add and subtract. Up to now she hasn't done anything about multiplication. The Sweet Shop needs ideas. It needs business. Maybe you are the answer."

Kay raised her head. She looked out of the office window at the blue sky.

"Mr. Lord," she said. "I am the answer. So are you. And thank you for us both."

Kay came home in midafternoon to find her mother in the kitchen stewing chicken remnants for a meat pie that would serve as the family dinner.

Elsa was in her room with a headache, and asking for a pitcher of orange juice with cracked ice in it. And thin bread and butter sandwiches.

Aunt Cora was on the back porch wrangling with one of her relatives who came to do an odd job of two and instead found himself at the receiving end of such a tirade as only a distraught and hateful woman could unleash.

Kay hesitated a moment in the doorway, then marched in with all the assurance of her newfound strength. She had a job. She was on her way to becoming an earner. She was out from under. She was free.

"Who is it?" Ellen Kenyon called from the kitchen. Her voice quavered.

"It's your bad penny, Mummie," Kay's heart skipped a beat. How frail her mother looked, how harried. "Your bad penny rolled home to roost. Yummy. Chicken pie. Let me finish the pastry. I have a touch, darling. Ruffle 'round the edges. Sit down in that chair by the table and let old Aunt Kay give you a lesson in ruffling pastry. What? You don't trust me?"

Ellen Kenyon wiped her hands on her apron nervously.

"Of course I trust you, daughter," she fluttered. "But—there isn't so much chicken — there's plenty of broth—"

Aunt Cora came in.

"If you figure doing anything with them scraps of chicken," she snapped, "we got to get some mushrooms to stretch 'em out."

Kay pushed her mother gently, into the chair by the table. She was washing her hands at the kitchen sink.

"Swell," she said. "Mushrooms. And where, Aunt Cora, do you figure we will get the mushrooms?"

Aunt Cora bridled. "Where does anybody get mushrooms," she wanted to know.

"We used to gather them when I was a little girl," Kay said. "That was before Somerset grew up and the mills came. Later we had them in boxes like strawberries, or done up in cans. We couldn't gather the boxes or cans. We had to buy them from the grocery."

Cora said, slyly, "You can call up Kahler's grocery and tell 'em to send us a couple cans mushroom caps. And a bottle of chili sauce."

Kay stuck her hands into the pastry bowl.

"I'm up to my elbows in the makin's, Aunt Cora," she said. "You call Kahler's for the mushrooms. Ask them to send some pate de foie gras and a jar of stuffed olives. One must have one's pate, and one's stuffed olives."

Cora Kenyon felt the jibe beneath the light tone. She stalked toward Kay, her arms akimbo.

"I've had enough of your impudence," she rasped. "I've had enough of your high falutin'. You think you're bettern's we are. You ain't. We still got a Kenyon man in our family . . . either you git out o' here or we do. The place ain't big enough to hold the Asa Kenyons and whats left o' the Jim Kenyons too."

"What's this? What's this? Cora, you don't know what you're saying. Cora, hold your tongue."

"Shut up," Cora Kenyon turned on her husband who had appeared on the scene without those involved in it being aware of it. "I'm running this family from now on. You've made all the mess of it you're ever goin' to make. And you call yourself a man!"

Asa made one last, but feeble attempt to control himself.

"Cora," he said, "this is Jim's house. You can't talk that way to Jim's daughter."

"I can't!" Cora shrilled. "You heard me, didn't you? They took what was yourn. You let 'em take it. Now I got my say. It's us has the right to this house—"

A door banged. Eyes turned in the direction of the bang. Elsa stood in front of the ice box, tinkling ice in a glass. She was wearing a ruffled house-dress of pale blue. Pink ribbon bound her pale gold hair.

"What a delightful family party," she said. "Home sweet home."

Cora Kenyon said, somewhat abashed, "I thought you had a sick headache. I thought you wanted to stay in your room and be quiet.

"Quiet?" Elsa scoffed. "In this house? Give me the zoo at feeding time. Such nice people. So re-fined. Why don't you try boxing gloves, or guns at twenty paces."

"Now Elsa." Asa Kenyon begged.

"Go back to your room, pettie," Cora Kenyon tempered her voice to a wheedling note. "Just go back and take your beauty rest. I'll look after us."

Elsa sipped ice water. Her myopic eyes squinted at the embattled group over the rim of the glass.

"Such nice people," she repeated. Then she turned, still sipping pink ice water, trailing her pale blue ruffles from the room.

"Elsa!" Kay's voice cut through the befogged atmosphere like a knife. Her floured hands rested on the edge of the pastry bowl. "Just a minute, please."

Elsa stopped. She kept her back toward the room. She tossed her head, in a gesture of annoyance.

"I thought you all might like to know," Kay said. Her young face was solemn. There was a throb in her throat. "Mother and I are moving out of the Kenyon home. Immediately! We're taking rooms, in town!"

"Child!" Ellen Kenyon gasped.

Cora Kenyon slumped into a chair, open-mouthed.

Elsa wheeled and peered.

"Now . . . now . . . Kay . . . honey," Asa Kenyon stammered, "don't you go taking what your Aunt Cora says to heart. You know how she flies off the handle. This was Jim's house. He left it to you and your mother. You took us in. We're beholdin' to you. We Kenyons must stick together."

"Stick together for what?" Kay wanted to know. Now her head was flung back. Her chin was out-thrust, her eyes dark and burning. They were on Asa Kenyon, seeing the ghost of a man he had become. "For a leaky roof, a rackety porch, a house with fallen arches, a few acres of weeds?"

Asa Kenyon sought to retrieve some of the vigor of his ancestry.

"We've fallen into evil days," he said, with a show of dignity. "But we are Kenyons. We will rise again."

"Perhaps," Kay said. "I'm not waiting for a miracle. I'm puling our part of the family up by bootstraps. I'm going to work. I start work tomorrow morning."

The effect of Kay's words was electric.

"My little girl!" "But you can't." "She's doing it to shame us." "Now Kay, honey, let's be sensible."

Kay shut out the cocophony of voices. It was what she knew she must face. She was prepared.

"Tomorrow morning at eight o'clock," she said, firmly. "In Lord's Sweet shop. Mother and I will be moving out in a few days, as soon as we can find rooms. And now, if you'll excuse us, we have packing to do. Come Mummie. Those two trunks in the attic . . ." Kay took her mother's hand.

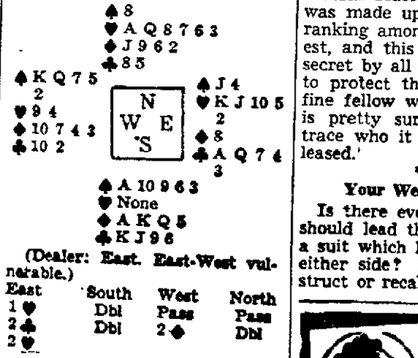
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

NOBODY IS INFALLIBLE

Even the greatest players make terrifically illogical mistakes. National championships are decided sometimes by errors which are so childish that they would be a discredit to players of below average grade, in both the bidding and the playing. When a bridge addict gets so that he can keep his slips at a minimum, then he is in the advanced class, even though he still makes them once in a while.



(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	Dbl	Pass	Pass
2 ♣	Dbl	2 ♦	Dbl

When North failed to double that 2-Heart bid, the Vanderbilt Cup went out the window as far as his side was concerned. The contract was set four tricks, not doubled, for a score of 400 points, exactly the same number as got scored at the other table, where North played it at 3-No Trumps, and took exactly nine tricks.

If North had doubled that, the score would have been 1,100 points instead of 400, a gain of 700 caused by the double. Since the match was lost by a smaller margin than that, it settled the issue.

Don't make the mistake of looking up the facts from the record to see what were the two teams playing in the Vanderbilt Cup final this season. The hand did not occur this season, but was several seasons ago. Each team was made up entirely of players ranking among the world's greatest, and this deal has been kept secret by all concerned until now to protect the reputation of the fine fellow who went wrong. It is pretty sure that nobody can trace who it was, so it is is released.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

If my words had held an electric charge of high voltage, they could not have galvanized Ronald more effectively. With a swift movement his firm young hands gripped my arms, so tightly that I almost cried out.

"Please say that again!" he said hoarsely, but his glowing eyes showed he had grasped the significance of what I had said.

"Surely I'll repeat it," I told him, smiling. "But won't you please sit down?"

"I'm afraid I hurt you," he said. "I didn't realize I was gripping so hard."

"Indeed you didn't hurt me," I prevaricated quickly and warmly, for his sensibilities were already so frayed that I wished no part in bruising them more.

Madge Explains.

These salving words had their effect. His face lost its flush and he put me into my chair.

"Now I'll explain," I said, "and I trust you never again will doubt your future mother-in-law's feeling for you."

His jaw actually dropped. I would not have believed it possible for this Yale man if I had not seen it. Then he stammered:

"My future mother-in-law! Does she—is she?"

I smiled reassuringly.

"She is, and she does," I said. "She fully approves of a formal betrothal between you and Marion. Indeed, in her present state of mind, I do not know but she might be willing to give up her dream of having Marion finish college, and consent to your marriage at any time that your parents may approve."

Ronald's Loyalty.

In his eyes there was the light with which any lover would greet such news. Then it faded, as his loyalty and sense of duty came to the front, and he spoke quietly.

"But we must not accept that sacrifice," he said. "Marion and I must both finish college—when we find her."

His voice broke, and for a few seconds he could not go on.

"Will you please take that message back to Mrs. Underwood," he asked, "and tell her how much I revere and love her?"

"That will be the most welcome message she could receive," I said. "I will take it to her now, and I probably shall be gone for some time. Better try a most needed three R's—relax, read and rest."

"I'll do all three," he answered, and I left him looking at the leaping fire with relieved eyes.

Lillian's Fears Revived.

I found her staring out of the window, and she did not hear me come in. I spoke her name softly, and when she turned and I saw the terror-haunted look in her eyes, I knew that her thoughts had ranged far afield from Ronald.

But I gave her his cordial message at once.

"That is very sweet of him," she said, almost mechanically. Then she put out her hands to me with a pitiful, groping gesture.

"Oh, I cannot keep him, Madge," she said, and I knew she was not referring to Ronald—she seemed to have forgotten his existence already—but to her husband lying wounded in the next room.

"The surgeon told him he could sit up for a few minutes," she went on, "and that was enough. I could see it in Harry's face. Despite his promise to me, Harry is determined to go down into that maelstrom of crime—it is only name for it—hunting for clues, to Marion."

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

This is the agricultural section today. At least part of this corner will be able to double on the farm page. And should be of interest to the 4-H clubs, Future Farmers, Grange, and gentlemen farmers, as well as to sport fans.

It brings you the latest communique from the Victory garden front, particularly that sector of the front manned by Mansfield high school Track Coach Harry Mehock.

You've all heard about the Victory garden planted by Mehock on the Mifflin farm of Football Coach Paul Snyder, and about the potatoes planted in rows 8 feet apart, and which Snyder says will die of loneliness.

Seems that Snyder hired a neighbor youth to bring over his corn planter and plant some corn on the Snyder domain.

And it seems that Mehock had covered up his potatoes with so smooth a touch that no one could tell where his potatoes had been planted.

And it further seems that the youth with the corn planter planted corn all over Mehock's potatoes.

This should make it easy for Mehock when he gathers his crop. Picking potatoes off of corn stalks is much easier than digging them. At least everyone who has ever tried it assures me that such is the case.

That's all for the class in vocational agriculture. School's out.

But if the class in animal husbandry and poultry raising cares to stay after school, I might point out that there is still a variety of sports fan which emulates the ostrich, puts its head in the sand, and maintains that sports will flourish as usual in spite of the fact that there's a war going on.

I have even had letters from the ostrich tribe, accusing me of trying to kill sports, when I was merely reporting the actual situation. Sports may flourish, and I hope they do, but not as usual.

First cancellation of a high school football game in this section because of transportation difficulties resulting from the war has just been reported.

Oberlin high school has called off a game next fall at Wooster. And that isn't such a long hop.

You can expect other cancellations as the summer goes on.

Meanwhile Wooster is trying to get a game with Mt. Vernon to fill the open date caused by the Oberlin cancellation.

A trip I wouldn't be missin' is that trip of the Bissman Stroh's Beers golfers tomorrow morning to Mt. Vernon. And if a military secret doesn't descend in torrents I will be makin' that too.

But not to golf. No, no. Let the golfers do the golfin' and I will go for fun. I understand there'll be plenty of that commodity about.

From Mt. Vernon comes the word that Johnny Hergatt's Sunset club has assembled quite an array of niblick swingers to toss against the Stroh's, but the Beers, so I hear, have quite an array of their own, and it should be a good enough match.

How do you like this Mansfield lineup?: Joe Mayer, Bob Moorhead, Pete Linster, Carl Wiseman, Al Hager, Ted Etzel, Joe Kasper, Al Kushin, John Scodova, Adam Brandt, Bud Houston, and H. Stauffer.

BEREA GRID STAR CITED FOR BRAVERY

BEREA—(INS)—First Big Four athlete to be cited for bravery in action in World War II is Robert Bissell, star football guard at Baldwin-Wallace college here in 1937 and 1938, school officials said today.

More than 38 B-W men have swapped sports uniforms for fighting togs.

BUCKS BOOK TARS

COLUMBUS —(AP)— A baseball game between the Great Lakes naval training station team and the Buckeyes will feature the opening today of Ohio State university's three-day commencement program. School officials estimated more than 1,200 alumni would return to the campus for the day's activities.

Weather Worries Majors

Maybe Military Secret Gives Enemy Comfort.

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

CALL it a military secret if you like, but that stuff causing all the grief for the major leagues in general and the Brooklyn Dodgers in particular isn't ginger ale.

* * *

The Dodgers have been idle so long they may adopt hipboots and umbrellas as standard equipment. Seven games were scheduled in the majors yesterday but only five of them were started and two of these never got far enough to get into the records.

The Dodgers, who haven't played a league foe since last Sunday, bumped into their fourth straight postponement at Cincinnati. They will try again with the Reds tonight.

The second-place Cardinals returned to action last night and nosed out the Philadelphia Phils, 2-1. That chopped the distance between them and the league-leading Dodgers to six and a half games.

The Chicago Cubs protected their sixth place berth from Boston, handing the Braves their tenth straight setback, 3-2, in the only afternoon contest.

A night game at Pittsburgh between the Pirates and New York Giants was halted after three and a half innings with the Giants leading, 7-4.

In the only American league game played—a night affair at Philadelphia—the Athletics tripped the Cleveland Indians, 5-4, on the five-hit pitching of Dick Fowler and Russ Christopher.

The New York Yankees' series-opener with the St. Louis Browns was postponed, but the Yankees held on to their nine and a half game lead.

When the Washington game between the Senators and the Chicago White Sox was called off last night after one inning with no score, the teams promptly moved today's starting time back to 9 p. m.

The Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers were not scheduled yesterday.

Teter Does Crash Roll

Hell Drivers Stage Ashland Thrill Show.

A sensational automobile crash-roll, end over end and side over side with Lucky Teter remaining at the wheel throughout, will feature the 28-event Hell Driver program at the Ashland Fairgrounds, Sunday afternoon. The program will start at 3 p. m.

The world's champion daredevil announced yesterday upon his arrival at Ashland from Indianapolis that he would risk his neck in the thriller which started him on the spectacular career of defying death to thrill the public.

Here in Mansfield some nine years ago, at the beginning of the Hell Diver organization, Teter introduced this lone stunt a week after he made his first public bow at the fair in Wooster, Ohio.

The crash-roll, Teter said, will be an added feature to the gala homecoming program Sunday, which perhaps will mark the last appearance of the internationally famous Hell Divers in this vicinity for the duration of the war. Twenty-eight other hair-raising automobile and motorcycle thrillers are on the card.

Berea Grid Flash Picks Ohio State

CLEVELAND —(U.P.)— Tommy Phillips of Berea, a flash on the high school gridiron, soon may be showing his stuff in the Big Ten.

Phillips, sought by 42 colleges and universities as grid material, has decided to enter Ohio State university because he wants to take a course in farm management. He has offers from Notre Dame, Tulane and Southern California.

Last season Phillips threw 21 touchdown passes in eight games, scored seven touchdowns and kicked 14 extra points.

Watling Dashes to Victory In Derby

NEWMARKET, England—(AP)—Lord Derby's Watling Street dashed home ahead of Hyperides, owned by Lord Roseberry, to win the 162d derby today.

Ujiji was third.

Watling Street paid six to one in the third wartime derby, run before a large crowd.

King George's entry, Big Game, a four to six favorite as the field of 13 went to the post, came in sixth.

GRIDDER KILLED

SPRINGFIELD, O.—(INS)—John Alloway, high scorer for Wittenberg university's 1939 football team, today was dead as a result of a crash of two navy training planes 10 miles from Lee Field, an auxiliary of the Jacksonville, Fla., naval air station. Another flight instructor and an aviation cadet also were killed.

EVASHEVSKI JOINS NAVY AS ENSIGN

PITTSBURGH—(AP)— Forrest Evashevski, former University of Michigan football star who became head backfield coach at Pitt this year, has been appointed an ensign in the naval reserve, the navy procurement office said today.

A Pitt official said it was likely the university would appoint no successor as its policy is to "keep the jobs open until the service men return."

Women's Golf League Opens

20-Hole Match Takes First Day Spotlight.

News-Journal women's golf league opened its season at Possum Run yesterday with Bates' Candies and Colony Bowling setting the pace with 3 and 1 victories.

Matches are 18-hole handicap affairs, and Carolyn Seifert took medal honors with a 93, while Janet Eichin and Reba Strome turned in cards of 94.

Janette Eichin was forced to go two extra holes before defeating Florence Adams on the 20th green.

Erie Tars Edge Charleston Club

CANTON—(AP)—Canton defeated Dayton 3 to 2 in an 11-inning Mid-Atlantic league game last night, chalking up the deciding tally on a walk, a sacrifice and a single.

Erie, pressing hard to overtake first-place Charleston, scored a 4 to 2 victory and moved to within three and one-half games of the Senators.

* * *

The game was called at the end of the seventh because of weather and the nightcap of a scheduled doubleheader was postponed.

Springfield made it three straight over Zanesville, winning 3-2

Old Infield Stars Honor Clark Griffith

When Clark Griffith, president of the Washington American league baseball club, observed his 30th year with the Senators recently, four of his former infield stars were on hand to wish him well. Left to right are Joe Judge, who played first; Bucky Harris, second base; Griffith; Roger Peckinpaugh, short, and Ossie Bluege, third base.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(Wide World)—The army has just put out an order that soldiers on furlough no longer can accept money for athletic performances. . . . Aimed at keeping army ball players out of benefit games where the promoters benefited the most, the rule also ruins any chance Corp. Joe Louis might have had of defending his heavyweight title for dough this summer. . . . Washington has averaged 9,000 attendance for six night ball games that would have drawn about 2,500 by daylight. . . . And Griff probably is wondering why he was agin' it for so long.

Mangrum and Little Lead

Have Score of 7 In Inverness Tourney.

By FRITZ HOWELL

TOLEDO—(AP)—The stage was set today for some scrambling of standings in the eighth annual $7,650 Inverness four-ball matches, as the fourth and fifth rounds brought together the top two-man teams in the birdie barrage.

Lawson Little and Lloyd Mangrum, only undefeated duo in the field of eight twosomes, were out front with a score of plus 7, a team getting a plus for each hole won, and a minus for each hole lost.

Tied for second, with four plus, were Herman Keiser and Chandler Harper, winners of the Miami four-ball event, and Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret, defending champion of the Inverness classic.

Today's schedule favored the 1941 champions, the morning round pitting them against Jimmie Hines and Herman Barron, and the afternoon set against Horton Smith and Chick Harbert, neither duo having chalked up a victory in three starts. The standout match of the day brings together the Keiser-Harper and Little-Mangrum combinations this morning, while Little and his dapper partner get a crack at Hines and Barron this afternoon.

In the three rounds, the 16 hotshots have scored 117 birdies. Byron Nelson and long-hitting Jimmy Thomson clipped nine strokes off par with a brilliant 62 yesterday to hand Hogan and Demaret a two-down defeat—their only loss of the tourney's eight-year history.

Dempsey Enlists In Coast Guard

NEW YORK—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion, was sworn in today as a lieutenant, senior grade, in the U. S. Coast Guard.

Dempsey, who will be placed in charge of the Coast Guard's physical training program at its Manhattan Beach station on Long Island, was sworn in by Capt. R. W. Dempwolf, district Coast Guard officer of the third naval district.

The ex-champion said he was giving up all his civilian activities, including management of his Broadway restaurant and radio program, and would report for duty next week after appearing in a MacArthur parade at Baltimore this afternoon and a U. S. O. show at Ogden, Utah, tomorrow.

ARMY PLAYS GIANTS

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— The All-Army football team, composed of the best players from the proposed eastern and western army teams, will play the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds Sept. 12, in the seventh annual New York all-star game, it was announced today.

Indians Drop Close One to A's

Athletics Win First Victory Over Cleveland.

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The worm turned and now the Indians must win today's contest and both ends of a doubleheader to capture the four-game series from the Philadelphia Athletics.

The lowly "A's," who had not beaten the tribe this season, did it last night, 5 to 4 behind the five-hit pitching of Dick Fowler and Russ Christopher. Russ also whiffed five batters in the last three innings.

Al Milnar, as has been his habit this season, was unable to put his usual stuff on the ball, and was relieved by Tom Ferrick in the third frame before he retired a batter. Ferrick allowed one more run to score to give Philadelphia a total of three for the inning.

The "A's" counted what proved to be the winning tally in the fifth, when Siebert tripled and came home on Lou Blair's single.

The Indians got an unearned run in the first on two successive fumbles by Knickerbocker. In the sixth Fabian Gaffke, batting for Ferrick, opened with a single, Hockett and Boudreau followed with singles that scored Gaffke, but after Jeff Heath walked, hard-hitting Les Fleming went out on an infield roller, Hockett scoring. A wild pitch allowed Boudreau to come home with the third run.

ROOKIE RECALLED

CINCINNATI — (U.P.)—Shortstop Damon Phillips has been called up from Columbia of the South Atlantic league by the Cincinnati Reds. He is batting .324.

BETTINA SCORES 12TH STRAIGHT WIN

CHICAGO —(AP)— Mello Bettina's new fistic victory record is still intact and now amounts to 12 straight. The Beacon, N. Y., southpaw heavyweight contender polished off Chicago's Altus Allen decisively in seven of the 10 rounds last night.

Allen took only one round; the other two were even. Bettina outweighed his foe for a scant 188 to 187.

Gabby's Guys Climb Upward

Indianapolis Knocks At First Division.

(By Associated Press)

Manager Gabby Hartnett's Indianapolis Indians, winners of 12 of their last 17 starts are knocking at the door of the first division in the American Association.

The Indians won victories 11 and 12 last night in the drive that has carried them out of the last place berth they held down on Memorial day. They held league-leading Kansas City scoreless for 19 innings in taking both ends of a doubleheader, 1-0 and 2-1. The first tilt went 11 innings.

The Indians now are tied for fourth place with Louisville, which split a double bill with Milwaukee yesterday. Louisville captured the afternoon opener 3 to 2. Milwaukee the nightcap, 4 to 2.

Cellar-dwelling St. Paul traded positions with seventh-place Toledo by defeating the Mud Hens twice, 2 to 1 and 10 to 7. Minneapolis and Columbus split a twin bill. The Millers won the opener 10 to 1. Harry Breechen pitched Columbus to a six-hit, 6 to 1 verdict in the afterpiece.

Concede Title To Trojans

Ohio's Bob Wright Favored In Hurdles.

LINCOLN, Neb. — (INS) — With tonight's 21st annual track and field championships already conceded to Southern California, another obstacle was removed from the path of the Trojans when Barney Ewell, Penn State's speed merchant, pulled a tendon last night and was removed from final competition.

Coach Dean Cromwell of Southern California qualified 16 men for the finals which will be held in the University of Nebraska Memorial stadium.

* * *

Ohio State has six men qualified and Nebraska five.

Other schools and the number qualified are:

Arizona State Teachers', 4; California, Rice and Missouri, three each; Washington, L. S. U., Michigan Normal, Montana, Alabama Teachers', Colorado, Pittsburgh, Stanford, Illinois, Georgetown, Wisconsin and Drake, two each.

Those with but one performer eligible for the finals are Texas, Miami (Oxford, O.), North Carolina, Oklahoma Aggies, Oregon State, Notre Dame, Indiana, Oklahoma, Minnesota and Iowa.

Ewell had been expected to sweep the dashes for the third straight season and his injury was a distinct disappointment to the 1,500 fans who sat through the preliminaries.

Another disapointment was the failure of Bob Ufer, Michigan, Big Ten quarter-mile champion, to qualify for the 440-yard dash finals. Four of the field passed him in the last 50 yards.

No startling performances were turned in, but Hal Davis of California and Bob Wright, Ohio State, showed well and it appeared likely they may win a pair of races apiece tonight.

Davis ran comparatively easy races in the 100 and 220-yard events, finishing into the wind with 9.8 and 21.9 respectively.

Competition for the pair is expected to come from Leo Tarrant, Negro star from Alabama Teachers and Bill Cummins, Rice, who looked to be the next best in the prelims.

Dallas Dupre, Ohio State Big Ten broad jump champ, led the qualifiers with a leap of 24 feet, one-eighth inch.

Gun Club Opens Weekly Shoots

Mansfield Gun club opened its regular weekly shoots with 20 marksmen on the firing line.

W. A. Koogle took the trophy with a score of 49 out of 50, and Fleck was runner-up, breaking 48 targets.

Three new shooters were among the contestants and several more are being added to the club roster. All marksmen interested in trap-shooting are invited to attend the shoots.

Bass season opens next Tuesday, and fishermen of Mansfield and vicinity, are fortunate (in these days of tire conservation) to have good fishing waters so close to home at Charles Mill Dam. Better drop and choose the things you'll in at Yuncker's before Tuesday need, from just a few hooks, to a complete casting of fly rod outfit Anything you choose at Yuncker's carries full assurance of top quality and dependability in action, and everything priced to keep within any man's budget.

This is a fish story—not about the big one that got away—but about a brown trout that had very little chance of getting away. The odds against this particular fish's getting away were overwhelming—it had two mouths. Angler Philip Newman of Rochester, N. Y. is trying to figure out which mouth led to the trout's downfall.

Man who had a farm not far from New York City liked to do trout fishing in stream on his property so posted usual trespass signs. Trespassers seemed to increase. He next put up a sign "Rifle Range, Danger" but it didn't help much either. Finally he put up a sign "Snake Venom Farm, Beware of Copperheads," and trespassers stayed away in droves.

ORDINANCE NO. 42-129

By Mr. Anderson

An Ordinance regulating the operation of gasoline filling stations in the City of Mansfield and repealing Ordinance No. 42-52 passed 10th day of March, 1942.

Be it Ordained by the Council of the City of Mansfield State of Ohio:

Section 1: It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, or employee thereof to operate a retail gasoline filling station or gasoline pump for more than seventy-two hours in any one week, within the City of Mansfield, Ohio, so as to sell or to be open for business for the purpose of selling for consumption any gasoline or oil incidental to the operation of a motor vehicle.

For the purposes of this Ordinance, a week shall be defined as seven consecutive days commencing at midnight Saturday.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the owner, operator, or employee thereof in charge of any retail gasoline filling station or gasoline pump to keep posted in a conspicuous place on the premises a schedule of opening and closing hours and under the following conditions, that such schedule must be legibly printed in letters of not less than one inch in height that for the purpose of the retail sale for consumption of gasoline and oil no retail gasoline station or pump may be kept open in excess of the hours indicated by the schedule and any change in schedule must be made at the beginning of the week.

Section 3. No person in any one week shall operate or keep open for business any retail gasoline filling station or gasoline pump for the retail sale of gasoline or oil for consumption during hours other than those indicated by the posted weekly schedule or when said filling station or pump has already been open for such purposes a total of seventy-two hours in that particular week.

Section 4: Any person violating this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) and costs of prosecution.

Section 5: Any section of this Ordinance found to be unconstitutional shall in no way invalidate the remaining sections.

Section 6: That Ordinance 41-52 passed 10th day of March, 1942 be and the same is hereby repealed.

Section 7: This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after earliest period allowed by law.

Passed June 2, 1942.
Signed: HOWARD G. MILLER,

ORDINANCE NO. 42-130
(Section 1189, G. C. of Ohio.)

Giving the Consent of the City to the Improvement of Central Park Square, Park Avenue East, Ashland Road, Hedges Street, and East First Street Under the Supervision of the Director of Highways.

WHEREAS, The Director of Highways is considering the matter of the improvement under his supervision of the public highway known as State Highway No. 140 and State Highway No. 334 and

WHEREAS, Central Park Square, Park Avenue East, Ashland Road, Hedges Street, and East First Street within this City lie in whole or part along the line of said state highways, said Central Park Square, Park Avenue East, Ashland Road, Hedges Street, and East First Street being more particularly described as follows:

1. U.S.R. 42, U.S.R. 30, S.R. 13, S. R. 39, Around square and East Park Avenue to junction U.S.R. 30 with U.S.R. 42.

2. U.S.R. 42-A: Hedges Street from East Park, Avenue to First Street, and First Street from Hedges Street to South Main Street.

3. U.S.R. 42: from Junction with U.S.R. 30 to east corporation line.

WHEREAS, It is proposed to extend said state highway improvement into, within or through this city and along the aforesaid Central Park Square, Park Avenue East, Ashland Road, Hedges Street and East First Street.

NOW, THEREFORE,

Be it Ordained by the Council of the City of Mansfield, State of Ohio:

Section 1. That it is declared to be in the public interest that the consent of said city be, and such consent is hereby given, that said Central Park Square, Park Avenue East, Ashland Road, Hedges Street and East First Street or so much thereof as is above described lying along the line of said state highway Nos. 140 and 334 may be improved under the supervision of the Director of Highways.

Section 2. That the Clerk be, and he hereby is, directed to furnish to the Director of Highways and to the Board of County Commissioners of Richland County, Ohio, a certified copy of this ordinance immediately upon the taking effect thereof.

Section 3. That this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

2—Card of Thanks

WITH REGARD TO A CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The News-Journal meets a need which can hardly be solved in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes, but also courteously acknowledges the service and kindness of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed, or whose names or addresses are not known.

A "Card of Thanks" can now be arranged by telephone: Dial 4251-6, ask for Miss Lane or Miss Stone, either will be glad to render whatever service and advice you need.

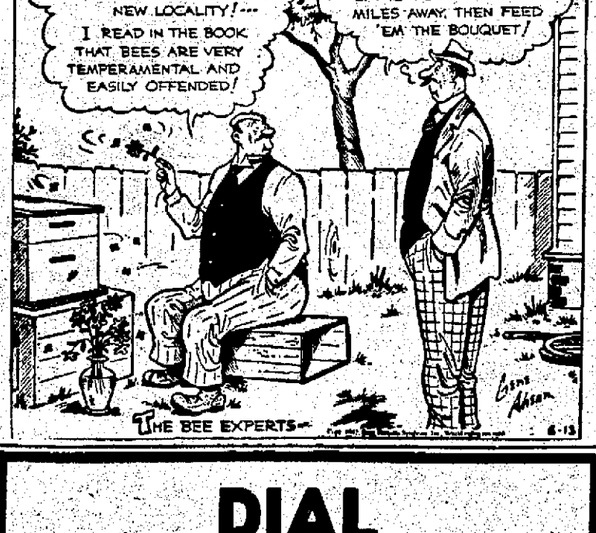
JUDGE PUFFLE— By Gene Ahern



BUT, ROBIN, THESE--AH-- ARE STRANGE SURROUNDINGS FOR THE BEES, AND I HAVE TO FEED THEM BY HAND UNTIL THEY GET USED TO THEIR NEW LOCALITY!---
I READ IN THE BOOK THAT BEES ARE VERY TEMPERAMENTAL AND EASILY OFFENDED!
BUT YOU'RE CODDLING 'EM AND TEACHING THEM A LAZY HABIT!---THE WAY TO DO IT IS TO GIVE 'EM A SNIFF OF THE FLOWERS AND GET 'EM TO FOLLOW YOU A FEW MILES AWAY, THEN FEED 'EM THE BOUQUET!

INSIST BIBLE SAW RATIONING

Authority cited for the inevitability tire conservation is the 18th verse, 3d chapter of Isaiah, reading:

"In that day the Lord will take away the bravery of their tinkling ornaments about their feet and their cauls and their round tires, like the moon."

STOCKS SHOW FRACTIONAL RECOVERIES

Supply of Domestic, Crude Oil Decreased During Week of June 6.

Gainers included Anaconda, Santa Fe, United Aircraft, Chemical, General Electric, Union Carbide, and American Tobacco "B." A bit lower were American Telephone, Bethlehem and U. S. Rubber.

Holders of oil shares noted the compilation of the bureau of mines indicating stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum decreased 707,000 barrels in the week ended June 6.

Attention was given the federal reserve board survey disclosing the value of department store inventories increased substantially in the first four months of 1942. The figure on April 30 was placed at 60 per cent above a year ago. About half the expansion was accounted for by higher prices.

START HUNTING UP OLD RUBBER

and turn the material into essential war and civilian products.

In Mansfield, Boy Scouts have already started their canvass for old rubber and will speed it up next week. Scouts will make house-to-house visits, reminding city residents to turn in their waste rubber or give it to the Scouts.

Carl Stough, Mansfield, is the Richland county salvage chairman and will direct operations here.

McGregor Demands Rubber Clarification

Congressmn J. Harry McGregor, representing Richland county and the 17th district in a statement late yesterday demanded clarification of the rubber situation as a means of avoiding sharp objections to any rationing of gasoline outside the eastern states, an Associated Press dispatch from Washington said.

Asserting the public was confused by contradictory statements as to the necessity for gasoline rationing to conserve rubber, McGregor said that countrywide restrictions would be received "with mixed emotions to say the least."

McGregor, who put his statement in the house record, added that "to inaugurate nationwide rationing, which will seriously endanger the existence of probably more than 400,000 small business establishments before the people are fully convinced of its necessity, is simply inviting serious trouble in enforcing it."

He suggested that "those interested in rationing gasoline to conserve rubber ought first to arrange to provide the public with the absolute facts as to the rubber situation.

"These facts should be compiled by a group who are qualified to do a job so complete and removed from the suspicion of bias that the public will be fully and completely convinced.

"I have not seen and I am wondering whether any member of the house has seen a report from the Office of Price Administration showing how many new passenger car and truck tires were in stock in the hands of manufacturers, wholesalers and jobbers on February 1 when the stocks of tires were frozen. Is there any good reason why this information should be withheld?"

ACCUSE COMPANY

Strikers Charge Utility With Unfair Labor Practices.

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Striking unionists accused the Cincinnati Gas and Electric company of unfair labor practices in complaints on file today with national labor board.

Approximately 700 gas division employes walked out Thursday. Philip G. Phillips, regional NLB director, expressed belief differences could be settled promptly if company officials and union representatives would meet with him.

17 From City and County Leave for Boys' State Camp

Mansfield and Richland county's 17 representatives to the Ohio American Legion's 11th annual Boys' State left today to participate in the 10-day program sponsored for eleventh grade boys on the Ohio Wesleyan university campus at Delaware.

More than 700 Ohio high school boys from both public and parochial schools will people the Legion's Boys' State set up to acquaint Ohio's future citizens with the functions of democratic government.

As members of two political parties the students will organize 15 cities and three counties, elect officers, make their own laws, and, as a concession to the times, select a civilian defense director.

The city-county delegation will seek nomination of a Mansfield Senior high student, William Sweet, 371 Cline avenue, as a candidate for governor. J. C. Stout, Mansfield high school teacher, is in charge of local arrangements. The election will be held Monday morning.

The county contingent left Mansfield in a special bus at 7:45 a. m.

Mansfield Senior high representatives are, James Bierly, James Curry, David Flockencier, Robert Huber, Robert Jacoby, James McClure, William Sweet, John Tatakis, Ralph Tykodi and Robert Woerth. Lloyd Reindl and Robert Shnug represent St. Peter's Catholic school and county students include Charles Callahan, Lucas; Raymond Clever, Lexington; Jack Hammett and Richard Wolford, Mansfield, R. D. 2, and Carlton Trease, Mansfield, R. D. 5.

The sponsors are: American Legion auxiliary, Loyal Order of Moose, Eagles, Junior Association of Commerce, Chamber of Commerce, Mansfield Rotary club, Delano lodge, 40 et 8, DeMolay, Ahepa, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Parkway restaurant, Modern Woodmen of America, Police lodge, United Electrical and Radio Workers of America, Local 711, Carpenters local, and a sponsor desiring to remain anonymous.

JEEPS PROVE GOOD SALESMEN

'Sell' $25,000 In War Bonds During One-Day Stand In Mansfield.

available, that the sale in Mansfield was four or five times greater than that at Springfield Thursday. The Jeep caravan made its first stop in Springfield—a city twice as large as Mansfield.

More than 600 Mansfielders received rides in the little army cars which are popularly known as Jeeps. Every buyer of a bond—of any denomination, received a free ride in a Jeep.

The last groups to recieve rides went for a Jeep spin in a heavy downpour that started about 9 p. m. Otherwise, the city had a lucky break on the weather for Jeep day. The rain that had been threatening all day held off until 6 p. m., the time set for the end of the afternoon sale and rides. By 7:30, the weather had cleared again, and again the rain held off until a half hour before the scheduled close of the activity.

Majority of the riders were children, but there were many adults too. One of the largest groups to go for rides was the entire sales personnel of 18 Golden-Russell employes.

Members of the staff of the Farmers Saving and Trust company volunteered their services to check in the day's receipts, a job which necessitated lengthy counting of cash and stamps.

One bond buyer turned in 1,400 pennies toward his purchase. Several bought their bonds with silver dollars. One of the $1,000 bond purchases—there were three of this $1,000 denomination—was made entirely in 10-and 20-dollar bills.

The "Minute Maids," Mansfield girls who acted as salesladies at four downtown booths and in Jeeps that toured industrial plants, sold more than $15,000 worth of bonds and $1,000 worth of stamps. The additional $7,600 in bonds and $1,000 in stamps was sold at the four Mansfield banks and the Mansfield postoffice.

The "Minute Maids" were Mrs. Oliver Henkel, Mrs. Tom Ford, Mrs. John Hattery, Mrs. W. W. Grant, Mrs. Gilbert Dobson, Mrs. Charles Spreng, Mrs. Thornton Moore, and the Misses Patty Palmer, Lillian Art, Joan Locke, Dana Jane Lloyd, Vera Jo Robertson, Patty Bancroft, Elaine Schiller, Miriam Jenkins, Joan Marquis, Mary Lou Sowash, Dorothy Bergman, Gretchen Edwards, Peggy Cayfort, Kay Steil, Betty Austin, Eleanor Frazier, Naomi Giffin, Marianne Stander, and Margaret Walter.

LARGE NEW AEF REACHES ULSTER

Many tanks and guns of all description were unloaded at emergency pace so the ships could start home and take on more troops, tanks and guns.

The ships intend to keep up that ever increasing flow of men and materials which is the watchword of the American army in Europe.

The complete lack of ceremony was the most impressive part of the arrival, because the men were there on business. They were the most boisterous lot of Americans since the first troops landed in northern Ireland Jan. 26. They were the fourth contingent to arrive.

There were no flags, no bunting, no bands, no speeches.

Sharp Attacks Check Axis In Desert

CAIRO — (INS) — Fierce British counter-attacks, strongly supported by bombers and fighter planes have checked the Axis advance eastward in the Libyan desert, it was reported today.

Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel divided his forces, said to number 110,000, into three columns and yesterday struck east on a front between Bir Hacheim and Bir El-Marmat, a water hole 15 miles north of Bir Hacheim and 30 miles southwest of Tobruk.

Dispatches from the battle front said Rommel apparently was trying to hold the main British forces in the Knightsbridge area and then detach another force for an assault on Tobruk.

Drive Nazis Back Before Sevastopol

STOCKHOLM—(INS)—Dispatches from Russia reported today that Soviet defenders of Sevastopol had driven siege forces back from a number of positions in heavy counter-attacks.

A Moscow dispatch said 60,000 Germans had been killed in the last three days but that the Nazis were continuing terrific artillery and aerial bombardments against the Black Sea naval base.

U. S. Planes Forced Down In Turkey

NEW YORK — (AP) — A forced landing in Turkey by Allied planes, reportedly American, was declared by the German radio today to have disclosed a "severe offense against Turkish neutrality."

DNB, the official German news agency, said the planes dropped leaflets over some Turkish districts.

The British news agency, Reuters, in a dispatch from Turkey, described the planes as four American bombers and said some crew members were slightly injured after carrying out a raid on the Rumanian coast.

Rumania has just been added to the list of nations against whom the United States has recognized a state of war.

SAY, YOU BETTER GET OUT OF THE GARDEN AND LET THE HENS BACK IN — THEY'LL DO LESS DAMAGE
RUSS COLSTOVER
THIS IS THE LAST GARDEN YOU'LL SCRATCH, BIDDY
LOOK OUT OR YOU MAY BE THE LAST GIRL SHE'LL SCRATCH
CUT CUT CUT KADAKA
I'LL STEW IT AND GIVE THE NEIGHBORS SOME — THAT'LL TEACH THEM TO KEEP THEIR HENS AT HOME
YOU BETTER LET ME STEW IT
MAY I GIVE YOU A RECIPE FOR CHICKEN STEW? I HAVE A SPLENDID ONE
USO
6-9
SINCE I'M GOING TO BE GIVEN SOME I WANT IT TO BE AS DELICIOUS AS POSSIBLE
RUSS COLSTOVER
I WAS GOING TO STEW YOUR HEN AND GIVE YOU SOME TO TEACH YOU A LESSON
WELL, WHY NOT?
MY HENS HAD NO BUSINESS IN YOUR GARDEN AND IT WOULD SERVE ME RIGHT
TILLIE — NOW THERE'S A DOG DIGGING UP THE GARDEN
BUT SAY! DON'T YOU MAKE MY DOG INTO A STEW AND GIVE ME SOME — I DRAW THE LINE AT THAT
RUSS COLSTOVER
OH, HERE'S YOUR HEN — YOU CAN HAVE HER
THANKS — I'LL PROMISE TO KEEP MY HENS AND DOG OUT OF YOUR GARDEN
AWK
IT SEEMS AS IF OUR PLANTS ARE NEVER GOING TO COME UP
LET'S INVESTIGATE
6-11
THESE RADISHES ARE SPROUTING
IS THAT A BAD SIGN?
NO, BUT YOUR ASKING SUCH A DUMB QUESTION IS A BAD SIGN
RUSS COLSTOVER
OH, TILLIE — MY RADISHES ARE PEEPING THROUGH THE GROUND ALREADY YES?
MAC
OH, TILLIE, MY RADISHES ARE UP
MINE DON'T SEEM TO BE MAC
6-12
WELL, NO WONDER — YOUR SEEDS ARE PLANTED DEEPER THAN OURS
MINE
THEN IT ISN'T A FAIR CONTEST. WE SHOULD ALL HAVE STARTED AT THE SAME DEPTH
RUSS COLSTOVER
HOW DO YOU DO? I'M JUST READING A BOOK ON VEGETABLES
FINE — LET'S SEE IT
"OF ALL VEGETABLES THE RADISH IS THE EASIEST TO GROW"
OH, THERE'S A SURPRISE BLACKOUT
WHOOEEE
USO
6-13
"A GARDENER WHO CAN'T GROW RADISHES IS SIMPLY NO GARDENER AT ALL"
WHY, DON'T TELL ME YOU CAN READ IN THE DARK!
NOT AT ALL — I REMEMBER — I WROTE THE BOOK

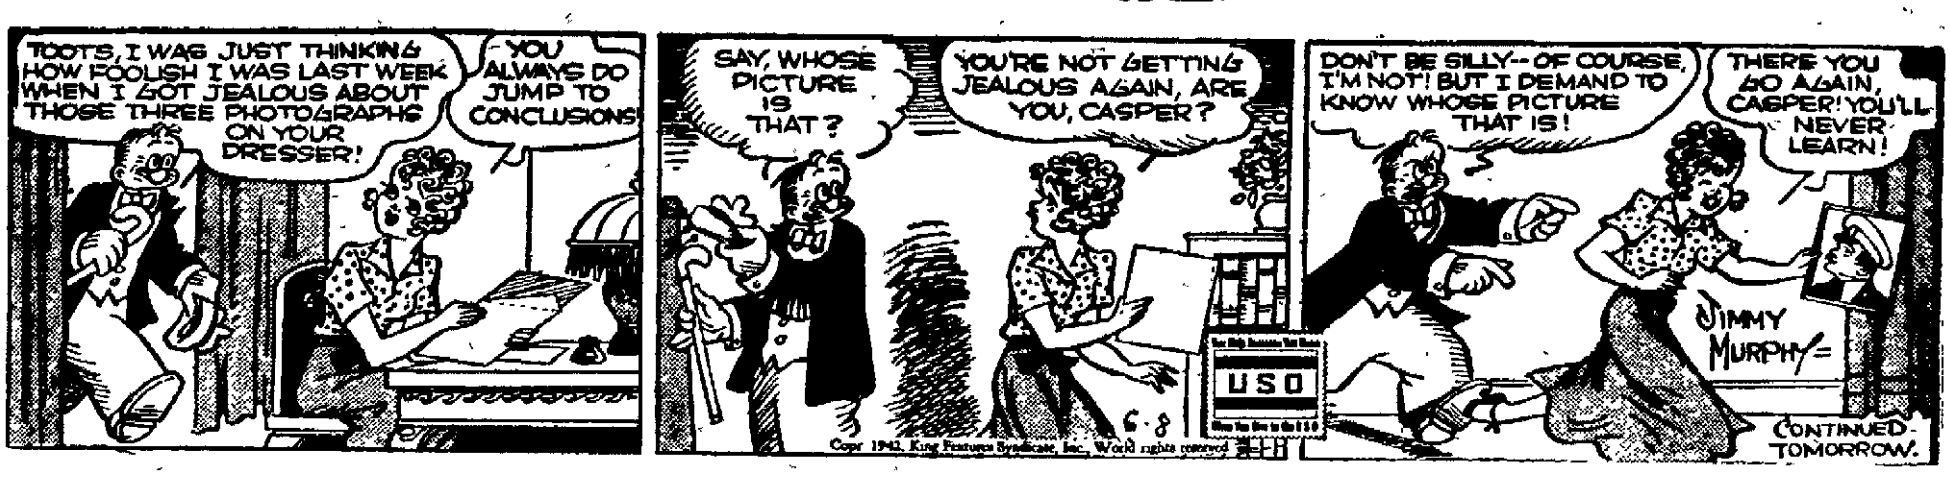
TOOTS AND CASPER



TOOTS, I WAS JUST THINKING HOW FOOLISH I WAS LAST WEEK WHEN I GOT JEALOUS ABOUT THOSE THREE PHOTOGRAPHS ON YOUR DRESSER!
YOU ALWAYS DO JUMP TO CONCLUSIONS
SAY, WHOSE PICTURE IS THAT?
YOU'RE NOT GETTING JEALOUS AGAIN, ARE YOU, CASPER?
USO
6-8
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
DON'T BE SILLY--OF COURSE, I'M NOT! BUT I DEMAND TO KNOW WHOSE PICTURE THAT IS!
THERE YOU GO AGAIN, CASPER! YOU'LL NEVER LEARN!
JIMMY MURPHY
CONTINUED TOMORROW.
CASPER, I'M NOT GOING TO GRATIFY YOUR CURIOSITY ABOUT THAT PHOTOGRAPH YOU SAW YESTERDAY!
6-9
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
YOU'RE BEING VERY CHILDISH ABOUT IT! WHEN YOU LEARN TO ACT LIKE A GROWN-UP, MAYBE I'LL TELL YOU WHO THE MAN IS!
I GUESS YOU'RE RIGHT, TOOTS--I AM BEING SILLY! YOU DON'T HAVE TO TELL ME WHO THAT GUY IS! I'LL JUST FORGET ALL ABOUT THAT PHOTOGRAPH!
USO
GOOD OLD CASPER! HE HAD ME WORRIED FOR A MINUTE--I THOUGHT HE WAS SERIOUS WHEN HE SAID HE'D FORGET ALL ABOUT THAT PHOTOGRAPH!
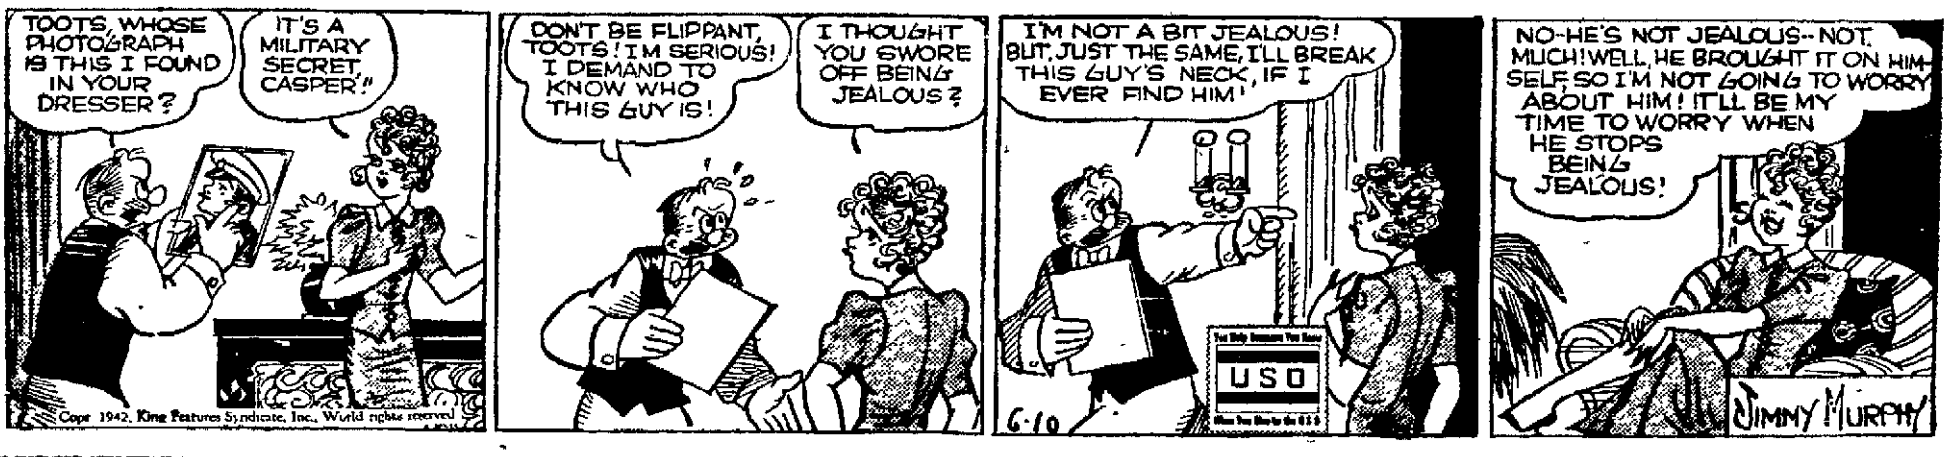
CONTINUED TOMORROW.



TOOTS, WHOSE PHOTOGRAPH IS THIS I FOUND IN YOUR DRESSER?
IT'S A MILITARY SECRET, CASPER!"
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
DON'T BE FLIPPANT, TOOTS! I'M SERIOUS! I DEMAND TO KNOW WHO THIS GUY IS!
I THOUGHT YOU SWORE OFF BEING JEALOUS?
I'M NOT A BIT JEALOUS! BUT, JUST THE SAME, I'LL BREAK THIS GUY'S NECK, IF I EVER FIND HIM!
USO
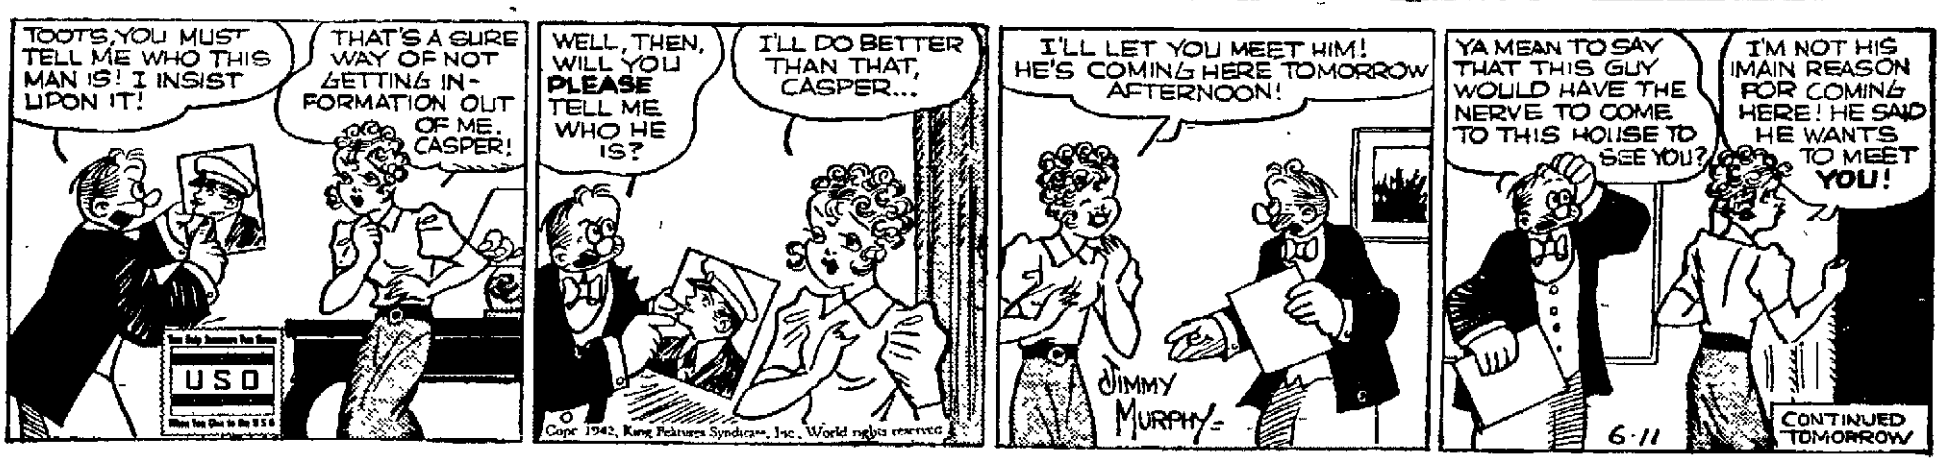
NO-HE'S NOT JEALOUS--NOT MUCH! WELL, HE BROUGHT IT ON HIMSELF, SO I'M NOT GOING TO WORRY ABOUT HIM! IT'LL BE MY TIME TO WORRY WHEN HE STOPS BEING JEALOUS!
JIMMY MURPHY



TOOTS, YOU MUST TELL ME WHO THIS MAN IS! I INSIST UPON IT!
THAT'S A SURE WAY OF NOT GETTING INFORMATION OUT OF ME, CASPER!
USO
WELL, THEN, WILL YOU PLEASE TELL ME WHO HE IS?
I'LL DO BETTER THAN THAT, CASPER...
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
I'LL LET YOU MEET HIM! HE'S COMING HERE TOMORROW AFTERNOON!
JIMMY MURPHY
YA MEAN TO SAY THAT THIS GUY WOULD HAVE THE NERVE TO COME TO THIS HOUSE TO SEE YOU?
I'M NOT HIS MAIN REASON FOR COMING HERE! HE SAID HE WANTS TO MEET YOU!
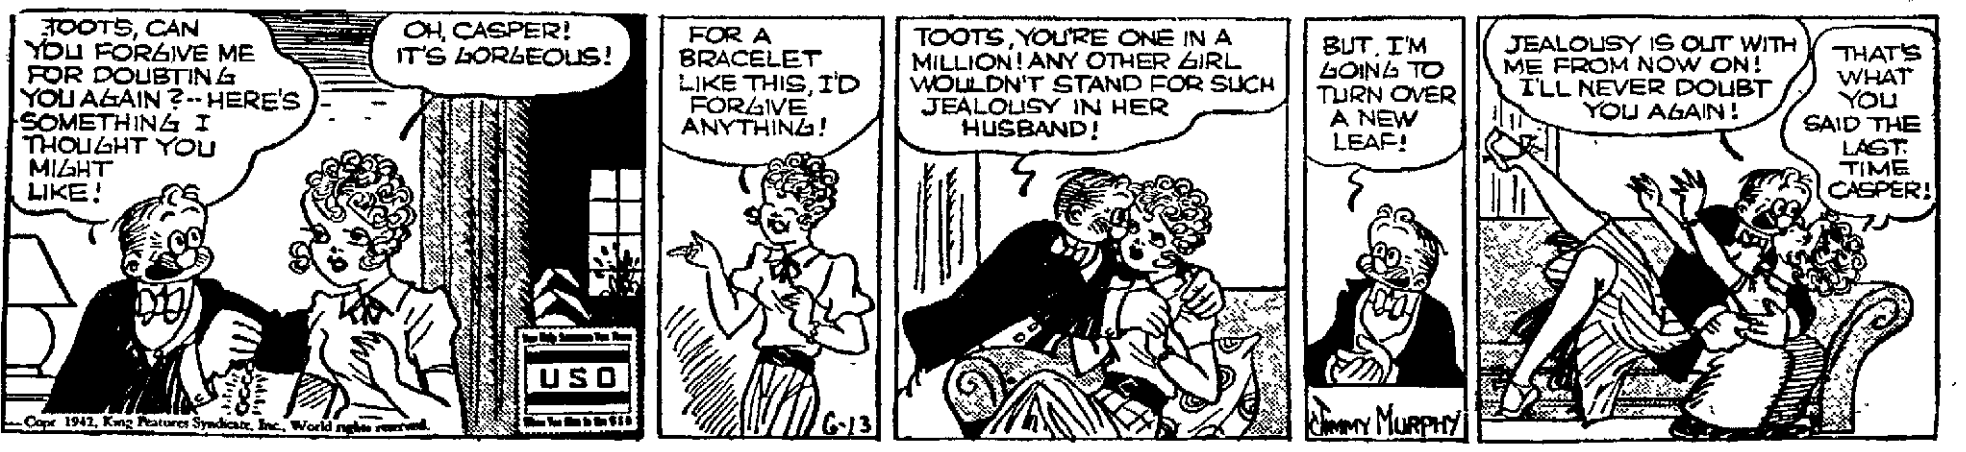
CONTINUED TOMORROW

SO THAT GUY WHOSE PHOTOGRAPH YOU HAD ON YOUR DRESSER WANTS TO MEET ME? YOU KNOW, I CAN'T HELP ADMIRING HIS NERVE!
HE SHOULD BE HERE SOON!
USO
OH, TOOTS! I'M SO SORRY-- I KNOW YOU'LL BE DISAPPOINTED...
MY NEPHEW COULDN'T COME WITH ME! HE GOT A TELEGRAM TO REPORT FOR DUTY AT ONCE!
CASPER WAS LOOKING FOWARD TO MEETING HIM, WEREN'T YOU, DEAR?
I'M SORRY YOU MISSED MY NEPHEW, CASPER! DID TOOTS SHOW YOU THE PHOTOGRAPH I SENT HER? HE IS SO HANDSOME IN HIS ARMY UNIFORM!
JIMMY MURPHY
6-12
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved



TOOTS, CAN YOU FORGIVE ME FOR DOUBTING YOU AGAIN?--HERE'S SOMETHING I THOUGHT YOU MIGHT LIKE!
OH, CASPER! IT'S GORGEOUS!
USO
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
FOR A BRACELET LIKE THIS, I'D FORGIVE ANYTHING!
6-13
TOOTS, YOU'RE ONE IN A MILLION! ANY OTHER GIRL WOULDN'T STAND FOR SUCH JEALOUSY IN HER HUSBAND!
BUT, I'M GOING TO TURN OVER A NEW LEAF!
JIMMY MURPHY
JEALOUSY IS OUT WITH ME FROM NOW ON! I'LL NEVER DOUBT YOU AGAIN!
THAT'S WHAT YOU SAID THE LAST TIME CASPER!

SECRET AGENT X-9

THEN IT'S ALL SETTLED, X-9?
DEFINITELY! I'LL STICK ON THE PRINCE CAESAR CASE... I'M GLAD YOU CHANGED YOUR MIND ABOUT LETTING THE SALEM GIRL PLAY A LONE HAND!
DO YOU HAPPEN TO KNOW HER NEXT MOVE, COLONEL?
SAID SHE WAS GOING TO A SESSION OF THE SENATE. SHE DIDN'T SAY WHY.
AT THIS MOMENT.. IN AN OFFICE ON CAPITOL HILL.
I'D LIKE TO SEE THE SENATOR, PLEASE.
HOW DO YOU DO, MISS SALEM? WHAT CAN I DO FOR YOU?
A SMALL FAVOR, SENATOR.
SENATOR, I'D LIKE A PASS TO ATTEND A SESSION OF THE SENATE
YOU DON'T NEED A PASS, MISS SALEM. HOWEVER, JUST IN CASE THE GALLERY IS CROWDED, I'LL SEE THAT YOU GET A GOOD SEAT
BY THE WAY, DO YOU HAPPEN TO BE RELATED TO THE LATE AMBASSADOR SALEM?
HE WAS MY FATHER!
WELL! I WAS A CONSULAR SECRETARY ON YOUR DAD'S STAFF... YOU WERE JUST A TOT AT THE TIME.
PRINCE CAESAR TO SEE YOU, SENATOR.
BY GEORGE! THIS IS A COINCIDENCE. SEND HIM IN, GRACE!
PRINCE CAESAR, I HAVE A DELIGHTFUL SURPRISE FOR YOU! THIS IS SAVANNAH SALEM!
WHAT?
NOT THE DAUGHTER OF THE LATE AMBASSADOR TO MY UNFORTUNATE COUNTRY?
THE SAME, PRINCE CAESAR.
MY DEAR .. THIS IS LIKE FINDING A LONG-LOST CHILD! I AM YOUR GODFATHER!
GRACE, THIS IS A CHARMING EPISODE. I THINK WE SHOULD CALL IN THE REPORTERS AND... AND
AND THE PHOTOGRAPHERS, EH, SENATOR?
HOLD IT, PLEASE!
JUST HOW LONG HAS IT BEEN SINCE YOU TWO HAVE SEEN EACH OTHER?
YEAH...HE ACCIDENTALLY MEETS THE DAUGHTER OF THE FORMER AMBASSADOR TO HIS COUNTRY... AN' GET THIS — THE PRINCE IS HER GODFATHER.
NATURALLY, I AM PROUD OF MY AMERICAN GODCHILD! I FEEL A CLOSER BOND THAN EVER TO THIS WONDERFUL LAND!
MAY I HAVE AN INTERVIEW, MISS SALEM?
X-9! HOW DID YOU GET IN HERE?
NOW THAT I HAVE LET IT BE KNOWN THAT I AM YOUR GODFATHER, THERE IS NO REASON FOR US NOT TO BE SEEN IN PUBLIC!
YOU'RE CLEVER, PRINCE.
RETURN TO YOUR ROOM AND PACK YOUR THINGS. WE HAVE A MISSION TO PERFORM.
WHAT IS THE MISSION?
YOU'LL KNOW THE DETAILS SOON ENOUGH! I WILL CALL FOR YOU IN AN' HOUR.
WELL, IF IT ISN'T PRINCE CAESAR'S LITTLE GODCHILD!
SAY, WHAT IS THIS — CENTRAL STATION
X-9... IT MUST HAVE HURT YOU TERRIBLY TO HAVE TO GIVE A WOMAN CREDIT FOR TRACKING A SPY!
YOU HAVEN'T LANDED HIM YET!
I'VE GOT PRINCE CAESAR WHERE I WANT HIM, RIGHT NOW! I'LL LAND HIS WHOLE GANG OF AXIS TERMITES, SINGLE-HANDED!
HOWEVER, IF YOU CARE TO TRAIL ALONG AND WATCH A REAL SLEUTH AT WORK, IT'S ALL RIGHT WITH ME,
CAESAR'S PICKING ME UP IN AN HOUR. HE DIDN'T TELL ME WHERE WE WERE GOING, BUT I DOUBT IF I'D TELL YOU, IF HE DID!
OKAY, BUT DON'T FORGET YOU'RE NOT THE FIRST PERSON TO GO "RIDING" IN AXIS TAXIS!

BIG SISTER

WHAT A NIGHT! NOT A WINK OF SLEEP FOR THINKING OF THAT ART SHOP ROBBERY! IF THEY MANAGED TO GET- HA! THERE'S THE MORNING PAPER!
6-8
WHAT? NOT A THING TAKEN FROM THE SHOP! HAH! THAT'S SPLENDID! SPLENDID! ALL MY WORRY FOR NOTHING!
THE FRAME WILL BE THERE. NO ONE WOULD BUY IT. TOO CRUDE AN AFFAIR. I'LL GET IT WITHOUT DIFFICULTY.
Copr. 1942 King Features Syndicate, Inc. World rights reserved.
FORGRAVE
JEFF, THIS ART SHOP BREAK-IN WAS A STRANGE THING!
WHY? JUST AN ORDINARY BREAK-IN. NOTHING WAS TAKEN.
6-9
THAT'S JUST THE POINT. MONEY IN THE TILL NOT TOUCHED. OTHER THINGS OF VALUE LEFT UNDISTURBED.
JUST A CASE OF VANDALISM THEY TURNED THE SHOP UPSIDE DOWN.
IT'S IN MY MIND THAT THERE WAS SOMETHING BACK OF THAT BREAK-IN, OTHER THAN PLAIN ROBBERY.
YEAH? NOW WHAT CRACK-POT IDEAS HAVE YOU GOT BUZZING IN YOUR HEAD?
FORGRAVE
JEFF, I THINK I'VE HIT IT! REMEMBER THAT ROBBERY OF A FOREIGN MUSEUM A WHILE BACK?
H'M, YES. A COUPLE OF VALUABLE PAINTINGS STOLEN ONE TURNED UP OVER HERE, BUT IT'S NOT LIKELY—
6-10
WHY NOT? IT HAS TO BE SOMEWHERE! STRANGER THINGS HAVE HAPPENED!
RATS! IF ANYTHING HAD BEEN THERE, THESE BIRDS WOULD HAVE FOUND IT. NOTHING WAS TAKEN.
PRIVATE
IF NOTHING WAS THERE, THEY WOULDN'T HAVE TRIED. IF THEY TRIED ONCE, THEY'LL TRY AGAIN!
IF YOU'RE SO SURE OF IT, WHY DON'T YOU HAVE THE CHIEF TURN YOU LOOSE ON IT? BUT I THINK YOU'RE BALMY!
FORGRAVE
I DON'T UNDERSTAND IT WE TURNED THAT SHOP UPSIDE DOWN WITH NO LUCK. I TELL YOU THE PICTURE IS GONE
I WOULDN'T SAY GONE YET, WE KNOW FOR A FACT IT WAS THERE ONCE
6-11
IT'S BEEN SOLD, THAT'S ALL. I FIXED FOR THAT WHEN I COPIED THE RECORD OF RECENT SALES, NAMES AND ADDRESSES
YEAH, BUT HOW ARE WE GOING TO TELL WHICH ONE BOUGHT IT?
Copr. 1942 King Features Syndicate, Inc. World rights reserved.
WE SIMPLY WORK EACH ADDRESS TILL WE CAN BREAK-IN FOR A SEARCH.
AND GO DOWN THE LIST TILL WE TURN IT UP. YEH! WE'LL BE HERE ALL SUMMER.
FORGRAVE
YOU SEE, HEADQUARTERS SUSPECTS THAT THE ONES WHO BROKE IN HERE HAVEN'T FINISHED WITH THE JOB
YOU THINK THEY'LL COME AGAIN?
Copr. 1942 King Features Syndicate, Inc. World rights reserved.
POSSIBLY IN THE DAYTIME, SO, TO ALL APPEARANCES, I'M CLERKING HERE—WANT TO STUDY YOUR CUSTOMERS.
IF THAT'S THE CASE, I'LL BE GLAD TO HAVE YOU HERE.
6-12
IT'S LOOKING BLACKER EACH DAY ONLY TWO ADDRESSES LEFT TO WORK ON.
BUT IF WE DON'T FIND THE PICTURE TILL THE LAST ONE, OUR TIME HASN'T BEEN WASTED.
BUT IS MAC ON THE RIGHT TRACK? WILL THE SHOP BE VISITED AGAIN?
FORGRAVE
ALL SEEMS QUIET IN THE ART SHOP AGAIN. AS GOOD A TIME AS ANY TO COMPLETE THIS BUSINESS.
PICTURES
ANTIQUES
6-13
CAN I BE OF SERVICE?
JUST LOOKING, SIR, JUST LOOKING. IT MAY BE I'LL SEE SOMETHING THAT STRIKES MY FANCY. BIT OF A COLLECTOR, YOU KNOW.
H.M! BLAST IT! IT'S NOT IN SIGHT. MIGHT HAVE TO ASK TO SEE MORE STUFF TILL IT COMES TO LIGHT.
WHAT PRANK OF FORTUNE HAS LED BETH TO CHOOSE THIS MOMENT TO ENTER THE SHOP?

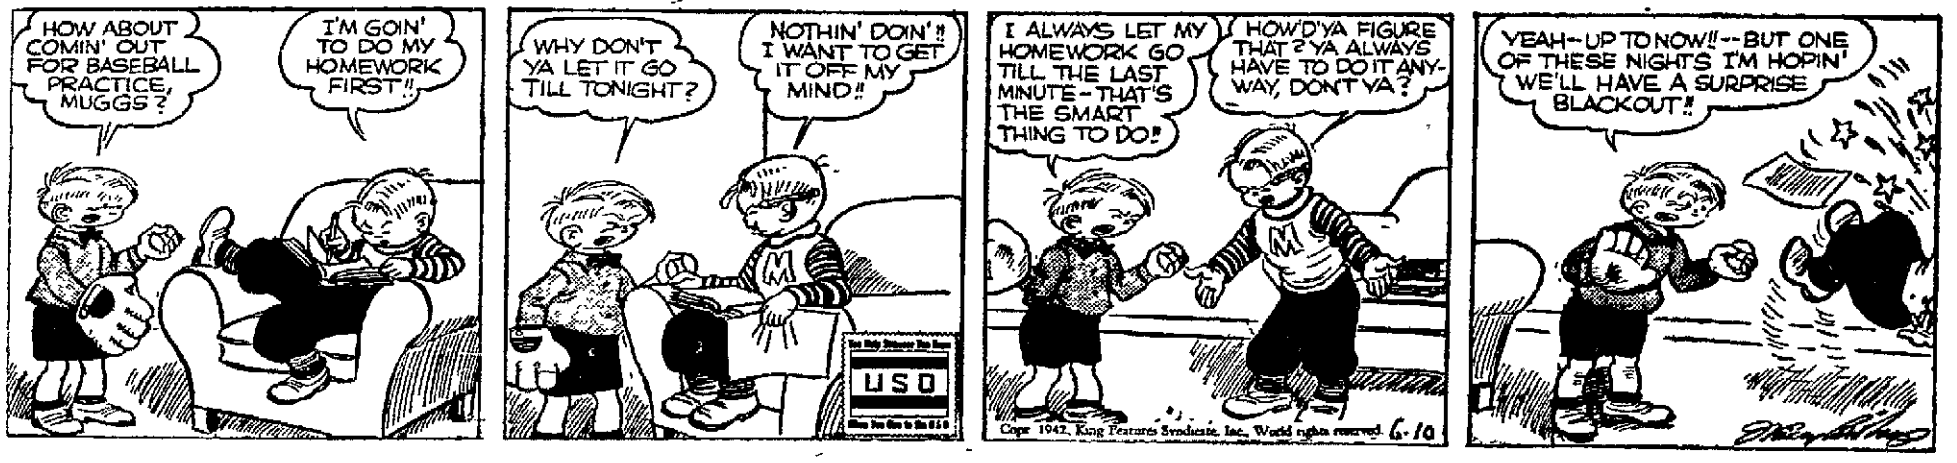
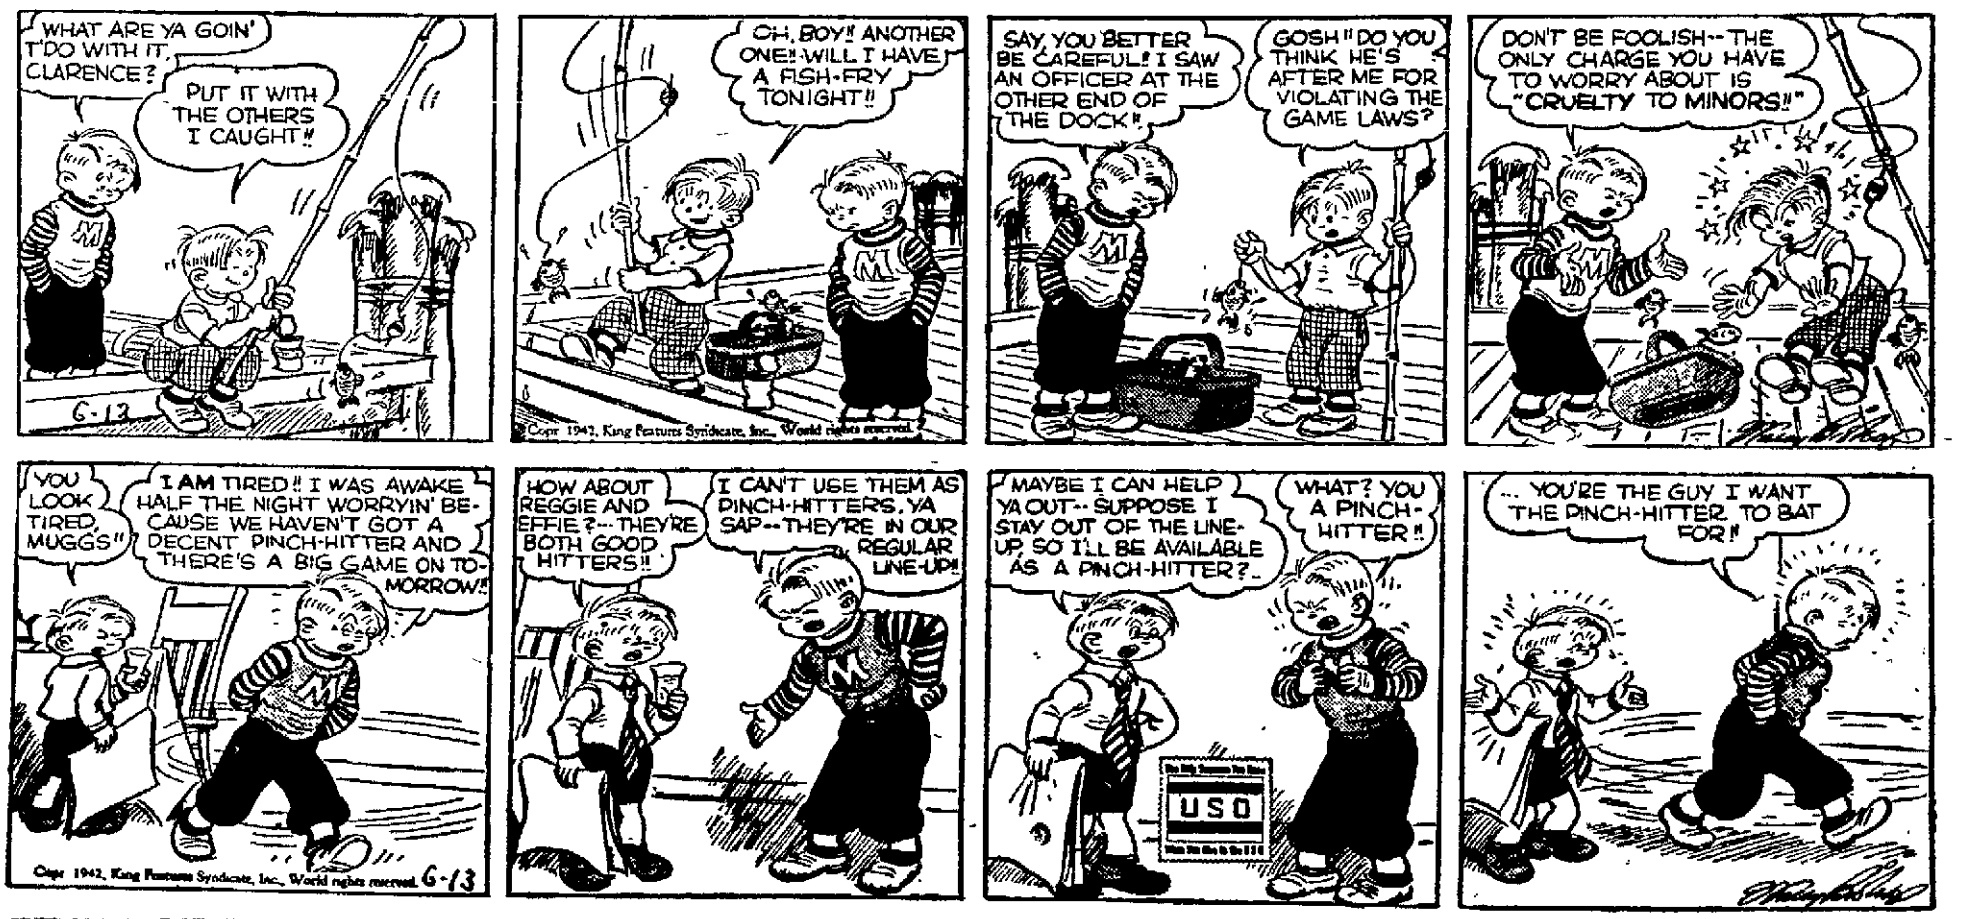
WHAT ARE YOU TRYIN' TO DO?
SWAT A BEE!! HE'S IN THE DRAPES!!
BUZZ
WHAT'S THE IDEA OF TRYIN' TO KILL A BEE?
WHAT DO YOU THINK I OUGHT TO DO--LET HIM STING ME?
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
WHY, YOU DOPE! WITH SUGAR SO SCARCE YOU CAN START A BEEHIVE AND RAISE YOUR OWN HONEY!!
USO
YOU WAIT HERE. I'LL SEE IF I CAN FIND A BEEHIVE FOR YOU!
AW, NIX, MUGGS KEEP THE BEEHIVE FOR YOURSELF!- JUST GET ME A FLY-SWATTER!
HALP!!
WELL, NOW, THAT'S TOO BAD, KIDS!!
IT LOOKS AS IF THE BALL GAME IS OFF, SISTER!
...WE HAVEN'T ANY BALL TO PLAY WITH!
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
AND THE WORST OF IT IS, WE HAVE ALREADY SPENT ALL OF OUR ALLOWANCE
WE WOULDN'T THINK OF ASKING YOU FOR AN ADVANCE! BUT IF THERE WAS ANY WAY WE COULD EARN IT--WE'D BE WILLIN' TDO ANYTHING.
THERE ARE LOTS OF WAYS YOU COULD EARN MONEY FOR A NEW BALL--MOWING THE LAWN, FOR INSTANCE.
THAT'S ANOTHER ONE OF YOUR BRIGHT IDEAS THAT BACKFIRED!!
BUT, GOSH!! HOW WAS I TO KNOW SHE WOULD TAKE IT SERIOUSLY?
6-9



HOW ABOUT COMIN' OUT FOR BASEBALL PRACTICE, MUGGS?
I'M GOIN' TO DO MY HOMEWORK FIRST!!
WHY DON'T YA LET IT GO TILL TONIGHT?
NOTHIN' DOIN'!! I WANT TO GET IT OFF MY MIND!!
USO
I ALWAYS LET MY HOMEWORK GO TILL THE LAST MINUTE--THAT'S THE SMART THING TO DO!
HOW'D'YA FIGURE THAT? YA ALWAYS HAVE TO DO IT ANYWAY, DON'T YA?
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved. 6-10
YEAH--UP TO NOW!!--BUT ONE OF THESE NIGHTS I'M HOPIN' WE'LL HAVE A SURPRISE BLACKOUT!!

GRACIOUS!! THOSE BOYS ARE NEVER AROUND WHEN THEY'RE NEEDED!! I'LL PROBABLY HAVE TO GO TO THE STORE, MYSELF!!
MUGGS, SKEETER---OH!! WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE, MUGGS?
I KNEW YOU'D WANT ME TO GO TO THE STORE TO GET SOME FLOUR, SUGAR AND BUTTER!!
6-11
MY GOODNESS! HOW DID YOU KNOW THAT?
ELEMENTARY, GRANDMA...
THE COOKIE JAR IS EMPTY!
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.



WHAT ARE YA GOIN' T'DO WITH IT, CLARENCE?
PUT IT WITH THE OTHERS I CAUGHT!!
6-13
OH, BOY!! ANOTHER ONE!! WILL I HAVE A FISH-FRY TONIGHT!!
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
SAY, YOU BETTER BE CAREFUL! I SAW AN OFFICER AT THE OTHER END OF THE DOCK!!
GOSH!! DO YOU THINK HE'S AFTER ME FOR VIOLATING THE GAME LAWS?
DON'T BE FOOLISH--THE ONLY CHARGE YOU HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT IS "CRUELTY TO MINORS!!"
YOU LOOK TIRED, MUGGS!!
I AM TIRED!! I WAS AWAKE HALF THE NIGHT WORRYIN' BECAUSE WE HAVEN'T GOT A DECENT PINCH-HITTER AND THERE'S A BIG GAME ON TOMORROW!!
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved. 6-13
HOW ABOUT REGGIE AND EFFIE?--THEY'RE BOTH GOOD HITTERS!!
I CAN'T USE THEM AS PINCH-HITTERS, YA SAP--THEY'RE IN OUR REGULAR LINE-UP!
MAYBE I CAN HELP YA OUT--SUPPOSE I STAY OUT OF THE LINE-UP, SO I'LL BE AVAILABLE AS A PINCH-HITTER?
WHAT? YOU A PINCH-HITTER!!

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

I'M TERRIBLE GLAD THAT NICE LITTLE GIRL, ELLA, WAS ADOPTED - BUT I JUST CAN'T HELP FEELING KINDA LONESOME.
ME, TOO
AND I NOTICE THERE'S ALL KINDS OF PEOPLE COMING 'ROUND EVERY DAY - MAYBE IT'S ON ACCOUNT OF THE VICTORY FARMS - THEY WANT KIDS WHO KNOW ALL ABOUT THE FARMING BUSINESS
NO, THAT'S NOT THE REASON - IT'S ACCOUNT OF THE WAR THAT'S GOIN' ON EVERY WHERE - MR. OLIVER SEZ WAR MAKES PEOPLE THINK 'BOUT OTHER THINGS, BESIDES JUST HAVIN' FUN -
DARRELL McCLURE
MR. OLIVER SEZ IT MAKES FOLKS MORE KIND AN' CHARITABLE - MORE WILLIN' TO HELP EACH OTHER, 'CAUSE THEY DON'T KNOW WHEN THEY'LL NEED SOMEBODY TO HELP THEM
THERE GOES ANOTHER TRUCK-LOAD OF VEGETABLES FROM OUR VICTORY FARMS
WE SURE KEEP THE TRUCKS ROLLING
IT SEEMS JUST LIKE MAGIC - EVERY DAY IS HARVEST DAY
THAT JUST SHOWS YOU HOW TERRIBLE SMART MR. OLIVER IS
HE HAS DIFFERENT KINDS OF STUFF GROWIN' ON EACH FARM AN' HE FIGGERS IT OUT JUST LIKE A LESSON IN 'RITHMETIC - AN' HE ALWAYS GETS THE RIGHT ANSWER -
DARRELL McCLURE
OLD MR. HOAN SEZ ANYONE CAN MAKE LOTSA MONEY FARMIN', IF THEY KNOW HOW TO GET THE RIGHT CROP TO THE RIGHT MARKET - AT THE RIGHT TIME!
MY GOODNESS, HANNA - WHAT ARE YOU LAFFIN' AT NOW???
I HAVE TO LAUGH EVERY TIME I THINK HOW SMART WEEDS ARE G'WAN - WEEDS AREN'T SMART - THEY'RE JUST UGLY-LOOKIN' TROUBLE-MAKERS - NOBODY LIKES 'EM
HA, HA - THAT'S WHY I KNOW THEY'RE SMART -
6-10
EVERYBODY LIKES FLOWERS AN' VEGETABLES - THEY TREAT THEM LIKE KINGS AN' QUEENS - CODDLE AN' PROTECT 'EM FOR MONTHS AN' MONTHS - JUST TO KEEP 'EM ALIVE AN' HEALTHY - EVERYBODY HATES WEEDS - THEY PULL 'EM UP - BURN 'EM DOWN - SPEND ALL THEIR TIME TRYIN' TO KILL THEM - BUT THE WEEDS ARE TOO SMART FOR THEM - THEY GROW FAST AN' STRONG - NOBODY EVER HELPS THEM, SO THEY MUST BE SMART OR THEY COULDN'T KEEP JUMPIN' UP TO LAUGH AT THEIR ENEMIES!!
DARRELL McCLURE
I WISH THAT NEARSIGHTED BEE WOULD STOP BOTHERING ME
HOW CAN YOU TELL THE BEE IS NEARSIGHTED?
HE MUST BE NEARSIGHTED OR GOOFY - BEES LIVE ON HONEY - AND IF THERE WASN'T SOMETHING WRONG WITH THE BEE'S EYES, HE WOULDN'T EXPECT TO GET HONEY OUT OF A PICKLE BARREL
IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER-TIME
DARRELL McCLURE
GEE, BUT PICNICS ARE GRAND! WE HAD A SWELL PICNIC PICKIN' FLOWERS - NOW, WHEN WE SEND THE FLOWERS TO POOR, SICK PEOPLE IN HOSPITALS, OUR PICNIC WILL MAKE THEM HAPPY, TOO
I'M GLAD THE COOK WANTS US TO SCRUB THE POTATOES, INSTEAD OF PEELING THEM - NOW, THE KIDS DON'T HAVE TO WORRY 'BOUT CUTTING THEIR FINGERS
THAT'S NOT THE REAL REASON - MR. OLIVER SEZ WHILE THE COUNTRY IS AT WAR, IT'S OUR DUTY TO SAVE EVERYTHING WE CAN TO HELP WIN THE WAR
BUT HOW DOES SCRUBBING THE POTATOES HELP?
MR. OLIVER SEZ PEELING WASTES ONE TENTH OF THE POTATO - IF EVERYONE SCRUBS INSTEAD OF PEELIN' EM, IT WILL SAVE THE COUNTRY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS
6-12
DARRELL McCLURE
BUT MUST WE CHANGE OUR WAY OF DOING EVERYTHING?
NOT EVERYTHING - YOU JUST CUT OUT DOIN' ALL THE SILLY THINGS WE USED TO DO BEFORE WE KNEW THEY WERE SILLY
HURRY UP, QUICK, HANNA, BEFORE THE RAIN STOPS - I JUST LOVE TO WALK IN THE RAIN, DON'T YOU? I MEAN IN THE SUMMER RAIN
WELL, WALKING IS NOT MY HOBBY - BUT I LIKE TO WATCH THE SUMMER RAINDROPS FALLING LIKE A SHOWER OF DIAMONDS ON ALL THE THIRSTY TREES AND FLOWERS
6-13
GLORYOSKY! WILL YOU LOOK AT THE SUNBEAMS DANCING AN' SMELL THE FLOWERS? GEE, THEY'RE GRAND! EVERY TIME I TAKE A BREATH I THINK I'VE SWALLOWED A BIG BOTTLE OF PERFUME
DARRELL McCLURE
HA, HA - YOU MEAN A LITTLE BOTTLE - EVERY TIME YOU SWALLOW A PINT - I SWALLOW A QUART!
